Stevenson Assails Russia For U.N. Cold War Tactics

Gromyko Blast At Dag Draws U.S. Rebuttal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of reviving the cold war in the United Nations in an attempt to wreck peace efforts in the Congo and get Dag Hammarskjold fired as secretary-general.

The U. S. chief delegate made the charge in replying to an hour-long speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the General Assembly that was largely a restatement of previous Soviet Congo policy.

In his first assembly speech since taking his U. N. post, Stevenson said the "insane attacks" on the U. N. secretary-general imperiled the "very survival of the United Nations as an effective operating instrument for peace and progress."

Stevenson Gets Ovation

He said Gromyko spoke "in the worst and most destructive traditions of the cold war" and the assembly could only accept this as evidence the Soviet Union regarded the United Nations "simply as an instrument of international discord."

"The Soviet Union does not want the United Nations to succeed in the Congo," Stevenson declared.

He received a big ovation from delegates in the big blue and gold assembly hall at the conclusion of his comparatively short speech. Gromyko got a scattering of applause.

Stevenson summed up the U. S. position by making these three points:

"The Soviet Union demands the resignation of the secretary-general. We will oppose this demand with all our strength. We must not allow the United Nations to be demeaned by vicious attack on its most dedicated servant."

Congo Withdrawal Opposed

"Secondly, the Soviet Union demands that the United Nations withdraw from the Congo within one month. The United States is totally opposed to this effort to replace constructive efforts of the world at large to achieve peace and reconciliation with anarchy. The United Nations must succeed in the Congo in the interests of all nations, large and small."

"In the third place, the Congo and the United Nations desperately need a period of quiet and of constructive cooperation during which we can help the Congolese to help themselves."

He declared that the assembly had been plunged by the Soviet (Continued on Page 2 Col. 4)

Atom Test Ban Concessions Offered USSR

GENEVA (AP)—Reopening talks looking toward the banning of all nuclear tests, the United States and Britain offered Tuesday a series of concessions to the Soviet Union.

The Soviet delegate warned that the chances of producing a treaty are in danger if France undertakes any further tests. France is not represented in the conference here.

The United States and Britain offered to give the Communists bloc parity with the West on any control commission.

And the United States went beyond the Eisenhower administration's proposal of last year and offered to let the Russians inspect U. S. atomic devices to be used either for seismic (underground) research or for peaceful purposes.

To these offers, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin replied he would first have to get his government's reaction.

A proposal for parity on the control commission seemed the West's major concession. Four Western, four Communist and three neutral nations would have seats. This was considered safer than the previous plan of a 3-3-1 ratio under which the lone neutral would be subject to pressure from both sides.

Disarm Issue Shelved

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—At the suggestion of the United States the 99-nation Political Committee decided Tuesday to shelve temporarily any discussion of disarmament pending private East-West negotiations now taking place here.

Cuba Claims 4 Invaders, One American, Captured

HAVANA (UPI)—The Fidel Castro government announced Tuesday the capture of an American and four Cuban "mercenaries" it said invaded western Cuba by boat with U. S. automatic rifles and a radio transmitter.

A communique from the armed forces ministry also reported that army troops clashed with rebels Monday 95 miles southeast of Havana. It said three rebels were killed and 13 captured in a skirmish near the Cienega Zapata swamps in Matanzas Province.

The announcements came as the election of Jose Miro Cardona to head a new Cuban provisional government was reported in Miami, Fla. Miro Cardona was first prime minister in Castro's government immediately after the revolution. The government identified the

Star's Son Named 'K' Says Soviets Overtaking U.S. But Cannot Rest

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The one-day-old son of movie king Clark Gable Tuesday was named John Clark Gable in accordance with the wishes of the famous father he will never see.

Kay Gable, the actor's fifth wife, was in "seventh heaven" with her new son. But the joy was edged with sadness because Gable was not with her. The star died of a heart attack Nov. 16 at the age of 59.

When the elated Gable first was informed he was to be a father, he told his wife he opposed naming a boy Clark, Jr. He said he regarded this as a burden for the youngster to carry.

Mrs. Gable gave birth to John Clark Monday by Caesarean section at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

Moroccan King Frees Oil Men

RABATA, Morocco (UPI)—King Hassan II Tuesday released 11 technicians, including three Americans, who were kidnapped near the Spanish Sahara border by Moroccan irregular forces.

The king said the men were seized by "patriots" because they were prospecting for oil on "territory Morocco considers its own. Their camp was in the part of the Sahara under Spanish jurisdiction."

He said the group was taken to Agadir, the Moroccan city hit last year by earthquakes and tidal waves, and turned over to government authorities by the irregulars.

The three Americans are Dale Miller of Bakersfield, Calif., Jim Gilbert of Littlefield, Tex., and John Cosgriff of Big Timber, Mont.

Tornado Destroys 12 Planes In Florida

By United Press International

A tornado smashed a Florida airport and the temperature rose below zero in New England Tuesday in a stormy first full day of spring.

In the midlands, snow fell on parts of Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Kansas. The Kansas snows were accompanied by spring-like rumbles of thunder.

The Florida twister traced a destructive zigzag across the North Perry Airport at West Hollywood and destroyed 12 small planes. The tornado lasted only four minutes, but it left a jumbled mass of wreckage behind.

Jobless Pay Compromise Bill Drafted

Differences Split By Conferees; House Vote Slated Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise unemployment aid bill, President Kennedy's No. 1 legislative objective, was agreed on Tuesday Quick passage in the Senate and House is expected.

Sponsors moved for a House vote Wednesday.

The two chambers had already passed slightly different versions of the legislation to extend, for as much as 13 weeks, unemployment insurance benefits for those jobless who have exhausted their rights.

Conferees split the differences. Payments could be made, under the bill, 15 days after Kennedy signs it.

Special Tax Starts Jan. 1

The conference agreement gives the Kennedy administration a victory by fixing next Jan. 1 as the starting date of the special tax to finance the program. The Senate had voted to make it effective this year. The administration opposed the change, contending its antirecession efforts would be hampered if the additional funds were taken out of the national economy now.

On another point of difference, the conferees agreed on wording closer to the Senate version. The bill, therefore, will contain safeguards against retired persons abusing its provisions. Pension payments will be deducted from any unemployment payments a retired person might receive under the new act. Ordinary Social Security old age payments would not be counted as offsets.

However, if a retired person returned to work in another job and built up unemployment insurance rights in this employment, he would not be penalized.

3,000,000 May Benefit

The measure would authorize nearly $1 billion in benefits which eventually go to three million persons. Unemployed persons would be eligible for additional benefits up to half the number of weeks they originally qualified for up to a maximum of 13 weeks.

The federal Treasury would advance funds to the states to cover the additional payments and the states would repay, using the proceeds of a special two-year increase in the basic payroll tax from 3.1 per cent to 3.5 per cent.

Congress adopted this method of financing rather than the one advocated by Kennedy—a permanent increase from $3,000 to $4,800 in the wage base on which the tax is levied. The temporary tax was preferred by most business spokesmen.

Second RB47 Incident Bared

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department Tuesday disclosed an exchange between Russia and the United States over a second RB47 aircraft incident, which allegedly occurred 10 days after President Kennedy took office.

The United States informed Russia after an investigation that it did not believe a violation of Soviet air space had occurred, the department said.

The incident, which the department now considers closed, arose only a few days after Kennedy dramatically announced Russia's release of the two survivors of an RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down in the Arctic last July 1.

Kennedy made the announcement at a nationally televised news conference on Jan. 25, and two days later he went out to Andrews Air Force Base to greet the two RB47 fliers on their return from Russia.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev was displaying an interest at the time in laying the basis for more friendly relations with the United States.

As a result of the Jan. 30 incident, in which no shots were exchanged, the Soviet government received renewed assurance of Kennedy's order that U. S. aircraft will void violating Russian air space.

Raid Nets Haul

MONTREAL (AP)—Police disclosed a raid on a downtown rooming house Monday netted $35,000 in counterfeit $10 bills, $75,000 in stolen bonds and two revolvers. The landlady said the room in which the loot was found was rented two weeks ago by a

President Instructs Labor-Management Anti-Inflation Team

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Tuesday put a team of top business executives and labor union leaders to work to help him fight inflation and solve a wide array of pressing national problems.

Kennedy told the opening meeting of his 21-man Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy its purpose is to "give direction to the general movement of wages and prices so the general welfare of this country can be served."

The group, which includes representatives of the public and government, had a cordial and earnest initial session, according to its chairman, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. The committee resolved to meet at least once a month, with the next session set for April 3.

Kennedy indicated he looked for the group to provide him with business-labor - public consensus views on such matters as unemployment, production, wages and prices and export competition so that they could be dealt with voluntarily if possible, without necessity of governmental action.

"I don't know the answer to these questions," the President told the group. "And I am sure none of us does. But I think together we ought to consider them."

In his talk to the union-management group, Kennedy said:

"We are going through a critical phase of our national life. We want to keep our economy free, we want labor to be free, we want management to be free, and we want to keep the federal government in its proper role."

"But we all, regardless of our politics we all have to come to the conclusion that the general welfare is involved in every action that we take. I would like to see you gentlemen consider how best your interests can be served and also the national interests."

Big Builder Blames FHA For Contract Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hal B. Hayes, who calls himself the biggest builder in the world, protested Tuesday that government pressure and fussy officers' wives forced him to stop work on $55-million worth of military housing last year.

Hayes insisted his array of corporations had not abandoned their contracts.

He told inquiring senators they are set to finish every project, a task that now has been undertaken by the Defense Department. And he tacitly suggested he would not sit quietly by if someone else actually moved in.

"Certainly, any other party going on the premises would be a trespasser," he said.

Hayes appeared before a subcommittee whose chairman, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., has charged that Hayes reneged on contracts to build quarters for service families at five different posts. The handsome, white-haired, 50-

Kennedy's stress on obtaining committee advice on wage-price "direction" surprised some observers. He said this was a matter that "I do not want the White House to have to come in at the last minute."

This appeared to be a word of caution that Kennedy expects the group to strive to hold employers and unions on a moderate course in their wage-price policies.

180 Killed By Tornado In Pakistan

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—A tornado striking four East Pakistan districts Sunday killed 180 persons, officials reported Tuesday night.

Thirty-two were killed in a Roman Catholic church at Golla village, where the entire congregation of more than 100 remained after Sunday mass for shelter against the approaching storm.

The village is 20 miles from Dacca, the capital of the Bengali eastern part of Pakistan, but it was not until Tuesday that word of the church disaster reached here.

The tornado ripped off the roof and the walls collapsed on the congregation.

Officials said the tornado left a 180-mile trail of damage in its wake. Thousands of houses were demolished and hundreds of cattle perished, they said.

The officials, returning from a tour of the stricken district—Faridpur, Dacca, Mymensingh and the general Rangpur—said 105 persons were killed and more than 600 injured in one village alone.

People were lifted up by the tornado and hurled away, they asserted.

There was no indication of what proposals will be presented or if Souvanna has agreed to meet with the government. The Communist bloc and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels consider Souvanna to be the lawful premier.

The royal government Saturday had denounced Souvanna as irresponsible when talks with him at his exile in Cambodia broke down and he left on a trip around the world.

The decision to reopen talks with Souvanna was made at a four-hour Cabinet meeting presided over by Premier Bouan Oum. Economics Minister Ngon Samnang left no doubt the government is feeling the pressure of a rebel offensive in central Laos.

"We must reach a decision and soon," he told newsmen. "Laos cannot afford to continue to bleed. At least 10 men die on each side every day, and 10 men is a lot for us. We are a small country, and we do not believe in bloodshed."

Hayes also said specifications and designs were altered without providing for cost increases.

Kennedy, Top Military Aides Map Strategy

Steps To Counter Reds In Mounting Crisis Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported Tuesday night as planning strong measures to bolster the military forces of the pro-Western government of Laos in its fight with Soviet-backed rebels.

At the same time the President was represented as still somewhat hopeful that a diplomatic solution might yet be found for the Laotian crisis before the United States and the Soviet Union become more deeply involved.

Kennedy conferred for 90 minutes during the afternoon with his top military and diplomatic advisers on the critical situation. It was the second such session in two days. The group at the White House included Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. There was no announcement of any decision.

Rusk Briefs Britain, France

Immediately afterward Rusk returned to the State Department and conferred with British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia and French Ambassador Herve Alphand. It is understood he gave them a report on U. S. planning to deal with the growing crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom if diplomatic efforts to restore peace there proved futile.

Kennedy postponed his news conference from Wednesday until Thursday afternoon. The White House said the Laotian situation was not responsible, but there was reason to believe Kennedy wanted more time to consider U. S. policies with respect to Laos before facing questions about possible lines of action.

One development on which Kennedy seemed to be waiting was the reaction of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to a meeting here last Saturday between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. In that conference Rusk is said to have reinforced the earlier statement of U. S. position made to Khrushchev by U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson 10 days ago.

Situation Viewed As Grave

On both occasions, informants said, Kennedy's readiness to try to make Laos a completely peaceful and neutral country was heavily emphasized, along with the President's concern about the dangers of increasing conflict unless the crisis is resolved.

Khrushchev is said to have given Thompson no encouragement for Soviet cooperation in seeking a completely neutralized Laos. But Khrushchev's reaction to Rusk's talk with Gromyko is still awaited here.

There appeared to be little doubt in official quarters here that Kennedy is determined to move in the near future, at least to the extent of increasing the flow of heavy military equipment to Laotian government forces.

One possible step would be to act through the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization to bolster the

Laotian Peace Talks Planned

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The royal government, facing what it calls a crucial week of decision, announced Tuesday it will renew peace talks with neutralist ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The royal government Saturday had denounced Souvanna as irresponsible when talks with him at his exile in Cambodia broke down and he left on a trip around the world.

Congo Premier Opens Captured Port To U.N. Civilians But Bars Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Premier Joseph Iléo opened the captured port of Matadi to United Nations civilians Tuesday.

U.N. troops still were barred from Matadi which was seized two weeks ago by Congolese soldiers in a fight with U.N. Sudanese troops. It is a port near the mouth of the Congo River used for U.N. supplies.

Congolese army chief Gen. Joseph Mobutu warned Monday that "blood will flow" if the United Nations tries to recapture Matadi. Reports from Matadi Tuesday said several unidentified ships were approaching the port with U.N. supplies.

In another Congolese area a perilous situation seemed to be developing. Reports from Elisabethville, capital of breakaway Katanga Province, said the U.N. position there was beginning to totter and that it would collapse if the warring Baluba tribesmen forced the U.N. troops out of the town of Kabolo.

The U.N. forces also hold Albertville and Manono in Katanga Province but Kabolo is cut off except by air. Dispatches Tuesday said Ethiopian troops nearby had to fight their way out of Nyunzu village, killing four Balubas and suffering two injured in the battle.

The crew and passengers of a U.N. helicopter were arrested and beaten when they landed at Nyunzu last week, and it was understood Brig. Paul Ward of Nigeria, the north Katanga commander, said the entire U.N. operation there might collapse if Kabolo is lost.

Reliable reports from Katanga said 100 Baluba tribesmen invaded South Kivu Province and seized Kasango, a road and rail junction. The Balubas also were reported to have assaulted and beaten 30 missionaries there. Some missionaries in that area are believed to be Americans.

Senate Rejects Savings-Loan Bill Amendment

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Maryland Senate Tuesday rejected a move to remove a two-year grace period from a bill which would limit insurance risks on Maryland savings and loan deposits.

The senators voted 16-11 to reject the amendment offered by Sen. John L. Sanford, D-Worcester. The bill probably will come up for a final Senate vote Wednesday.

The bill, already passed by the House, would require an insurance company to have 10 times in assets the amount it is insuring under any one policy with a savings and loan association.

The only existing firm affected by the bill would be Security Financial Insurance Corp.

A House amendment to the bill would give existing firms two years to comply with changes in the law. It was adopted by the House as a compromise agreed to by the bill's sponsor, Del. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Harford.

House Group Clears Judgeship Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee approved a bill Tuesday which would create 70 new federal judgeships throughout the country.

Of the new posts in the bill, 10 are in circuit courts of appeal and 60 in district courts in some 30 states.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N. Y., of the committee, said he expects to get House action on the bill "right after Easter."

The House committee bill would set up one more judgeship than recommended by the federal judicial conference, but three less than in the Senate version of the bill.

As it stands now, additions would include two new district judgeships for the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals which includes Maryland.

House Banking Unit Approves Job Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Committee approval opened the way Tuesday for an early House vote on a $400-million program designed to aid chronically depressed areas.

The House appeared likely to consider it next week. The Senate already has passed a similar bill. Both Houses also have passed, in somewhat different form, emergency unemployment legislation high on President Kennedy's priority list. A compromise on the differences was agreed on Tuesday.

The House Banking Committee approved the depressed area legislation after only a day's consideration and over opposition of eight Republican members. They joined in a statement predicting "bitter disillusionment" for those who hope to be helped.

The bill would provide $300 million in revolving funds for loans to encourage industry to establish itself in areas of persistent unemployment. The money could be used for sites, public facilities and in exceptional cases machinery. A third of the amount would be earmarked specifically for rural areas.

The measure also would authorize grants of $75 million for public facilities and $19 million for economic surveys and retraining of workers stranded by the winding away of industries which employed them.

Three U. Md. Profs Get NASA Grants

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Awards totaling more than $300,000 have been granted to three University of Maryland professors by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The grants were made for long-range studies to aid the nation's man-in-space program, the NASA said Tuesday.

The largest award, $216,000, went to Professor R. W. Krauss, who is investigating the growth of algae under controlled environments.

S. Fred Singer and E. J. Opik were granted $97,000 to conduct a three-year theoretical study of interplanetary gas and dust.

fighting power of the government of Premier Boun Oum. Another step could be to increase heavily the military aid and the number of U.S. military advisers to Boun Oum's government.

A State Department spokesman said the Soviet airlift supplying guns, ammunition and other war materials to the rebel forces was continuing.

Asked whether the United States still hopes for a political solution of the crisis, press officer Lincoln White said such hopes have to be based on cooperation from "the other side" directed toward the end "which you would achieve."

The clear implication of this vaguely worded comment was that the U.S. government has very little, if any, hope just now for a political solution because the Soviet government is not cooperating to that end.

Gromyko Blast

Union into a destructive attack before a report of its 11-nation Asian-African Conciliation Commission could be considered.

The commission's lengthy report published Tuesday recommended a broad program for restoring peace to the Congo, including a truce among rival political leaders and aiding Parliament to draw up a new constitution.

Gromyko assailed Hammarskjöld as the accomplice and organizer of the murder of the Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba. Stevenson called such charges "wild, irresponsible and absurd."

The U. S. delegate said the United Nations should "rush into a Congo debate. A conclusion of the morning session, addressed also by Czechoslovakia and Brazil, the assembly adjourned without setting another time for continuing the debate.

Integration By Invitation

BALTIMORE (AP) — Integration by invitation is the latest wrinkle of a private organization known as Baltimore Neighborhoods Inc.

William Boucher III, president of the group, announced it has launched a program aimed at persuading white home buyers to move into half a dozen neighborhoods in North Baltimore.

The neighborhoods have undergone a transition from white to Negro in recent years. Most of the homes are single-family dwellings selling for $15,000 to $25,000.

"We are not attempting to close off these neighborhoods to Negroes," said Boucher. "Instead, we are trying to assure that whites also move into these areas to maintain integrated neighborhoods."

Bill To Tighten Idle Pay Rules Watered Down

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee Tuesday watered down a bill which would have denied jobless pay benefits to anyone who voluntarily quits his job, is fired or refuses to seek or accept employment.

The vote to place such matters under discretion of the Director of Employment Security came on a 17-16 vote in committee with Chairman Ridgely Melvin, D-Anne Arundel, breaking a tie.

The bill is to be reported to the House floor Wednesday.

Sen. Frederick C. Mankus, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which drafted the bill plugging "loopholes" in the jobless pay program, said of the House action:

"This ruins the bill . . . I will recommend the Senate reject the amendments."

If the two houses don't agree on the legislation it will head into a joint conference committee, the first such gathering on a piece of major legislation this session. The bill cleared the Senate by a scant 15-13 margin exactly enough votes for passage.

Gas Pipeline Blaze Extinguished After School, Homes Evacuated

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Flames leaped 50 to 60 feet high Tuesday as natural gas in an eight-inch pipeline caught fire just north of Hagerstown.

Firemen fought the blaze for 2½ hours before putting it out.

Three hundred children were evacuated from an elementary school nearby as a precaution, as were 50 to 75 residents of a dozen homes near the scene of the fire.

Detonation of explosives on a construction job, in order to clear some rock, loosened a joint of the pipeline and a tar pot nearby set fire to the gas.

A fireman, Edward Elgin, was slightly burned. He was treated at Washington County Hospital and released.

The pipeline owned by the Hagerstown Gas Co. normally is the city's only source of supply. It caught fire at a point near the site of construction of a new Mack Truck plant, where workmen were digging a sewer line.

The pipeline runs parallel to U. S. 11, just west of the two-lane, north-south highway.

There was no immediate word from gas company officials on when the pipeline might be repaired.

BERLIN (AP) — Protestant church newspapers have been confiscated by the Communist regime of East Germany, church authorities said Tuesday.

A spokesman for the German Evangelical Church, which operates in both parts of divided Germany, said the papers were seized because they contained the minutes of a national church convention to be held in West Berlin from the scene of the fire, July 10-23.

State Senators Defer Pay Hike Action

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Senators Sikes said, "assembly members are underpaid." The proposal would double the salaries of members of the General Assembly—from $1,800 to $3,600. Voters would have a say on the pay raise in 1962.

Sen. John-Clarence North, D-Talbot, told the Finance Committee it would be setting a "poor example" to report the bill at this time in the light of cuts in salary requests of school teachers and state employees.

Del. Carlton R. Sikes, D-Prince Georges, who sponsored the bill, stuck to his guns, saying "There's no question about it."

"Beware of the public servant who is underpaid and doesn't complain about it," Sikes warned.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A member of the House of Delegates said Tuesday he will vote for legislation which would benefit a race track in which he owns stock.

A. Gordon Boone, D-Balto. County, said he will back a bill permitting the Baltimore Raceway to convert to thoroughbred racing racing and also to increase its number of racing dates.

Mr. Boone, Democratic majority leader, said he saw no conflict of interest in his supporting the measure, although he owns stock in the Baltimore Raceway.

A House rule forbids a member to vote on Legislation from which he stands to gain—personally or financially.

It would be silly to apply the rule in this instance, Boone contended.

"I am a veteran. Must I then refrain from voting on the veterans' bonus bill?"

When the British captured it from the Dutch in 1664, New York had a population of only 1,000.

Maryland Firms To Discuss Export Sales Expansion

BALTIMORE (AP)—a meeting designed to encourage Maryland firms to enter the foreign trade field or to increase their current export sales will be held here Wednesday.

The program is sponsored by the Baltimore Association of Commerce and the Maryland Port Authority in cooperation with the Department of Commerce and its Eastern New Jersey.

Morning and afternoon panel discussions will be held at the all-day session of the Maryland Export Expansion Seminar.

Three Department of Commerce experts will counsel Maryland businessmen on foreign trade at the morning session. They will tell what the department is doing to help American firms in establishing and continuing export trade.

The afternoon panel will feature four Baltimore executives who have been engaged in various phases of foreign trade. They will give a balanced picture of the international business field on the operational level.

Loring K. Macy, director of the Foreign Commerce for the Department of Commerce, will be Leading The Upswing! RAMBLER MARCH SALES AT ALL-TIME RECORD HIGH!

Rambler News is good! March Sales are running at an all-time record rate. That's right! More people bought Ramblers in the first third of March than in any similar period in Rambler history!

Yes—Rambler leads the economic upswing as more car buyers discover that Rambler Excellence gives a bonus on every car dollar they invest.

Now Is A Good Time To Buy!

Rambler means business! Right now, Rambler dealers are out after even more sales with the kind of fair-and-square liberal deals that car buyers can't afford to pass by. Used car prices have firmed. That means your present car is worth more in trade now on a new Rambler.

Why Is Rambler Breaking Sales Records?

Compact cars are capturing an ever-growing share of the new car market. Why does Rambler continue to hit new sales heights? Because Rambler is better than the big cars and best of the compacts. Here are the reasons:

ONLY RAMBLER offers 3 distinct sizes of compact cars

RAMBLER IS voted most trouble-free by owners

RAMBLER'S RECORD ECONOMY proved by 11 years and 35 billion owner-driven miles

ALL RAMBLERS HAVE such exclusive quality features as Deep-Dip rust-proofing way up to the roof . . . rattle-free Single-Unit construction . . . Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe to far outlast ordinary mufflers

RAMBLER OFFERS America's lowest prices

ONLY RAMBLER has a compact car for six 6-footers

RAMBLER HAS top resale value

Ask Your Neighbor About His Rambler

He'll tell you why Rambler dealers sell twice as many compact cars per dealer as most other dealer groups. And your Rambler dealer can give you a better deal on the best of the compacts. Drive Rambler—world standard of compact car excellence!

How an exclusive discovery whips extra smoothness into Schenley whisky

This is a glass of unusual whisky. It is Schenley. Its extraordinary smoothness is the result of the greatest advance in whisky making in twenty-five years.

Taking the same fine whiskies always reserved for Schenley, we now put them through a costly new step. In this exclusive step the whiskies are whirled in a specially-designed vat by stainless steel blades and literally whipped into a smoothness never before attainable. This unique process breaks down each drop of the fine whiskies and grain neutral spirits into its smallest possible components and then "marries" them more thoroughly than ever before.

The result can only be realized by tasting Schenley whisky. We think you'll agree: smoothness in a whisky has now taken on a completely new meaning. So start enjoying Schenley, the only whisky with extra smoothness whipped in. $4.70 4.5 Qt. $2.98 1.2 Pt. $1.50 1.2 Pt.

AAUW Convention Chairmen Named

Protocol for state conventions was outlined by Mrs. Howard Tolson, chairman for the Cumberland Branch American Association of University Women, at a convention committee meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Nan Livingstone, Memorial Avenue.

Mrs. John Thomas conducted the meeting. The convention will be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club April 21-22. Registration, which will begin the 21st at the Shrine Club, was discussed.

Chairmen named are Miss Gertrude Pritchard and Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, program; Mrs. Alice Maguire, souvenir packets; Miss Livingstone, hospitality; Mrs. Ton van Strien, reservations; and Mrs. William Harrison, publicity.

Entertainment will feature a program of Scottish dances by Joseph Blundin, Keyser, in collaboration with Mrs. Eva Hogan of the recreation department. The formal demonstration will be given after the banquet Friday evening.

Garden Tour Is Discussed

The Mapleside Homemakers Club celebrated its 27th anniversary with a covered dish luncheon, at which time a tour to visit flower gardens in Baltimore was suggested.

A workshop, in the form of a home nursing demonstration, will be given by Mrs. Betty June Dively April 20. It will be at 10 a. m., with the business session following at 1 p. m. in First Brethren Church.

Mrs. Glen Diehl presided and opened the meeting at the church with prayer and read the thought of the month. Mrs. Anthony Schultz led the group in giving the flag salute. Mrs. Jennie Hicks told about the flower of the month, the black-eyed Susan. Miss Mary Wise talked on "Keeping Clothes Wearable." She also announced the Maryland State Council of Homemakers Clubs convention will be held in Cumberland April 12 and 13.

The group sang, "O Word of God Incarnate," "The More We Get Together," "Daisy," "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Sidelwalks of New York," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "The Easter Parade."

Fifty-eight members attended. Guests were Walter House, J. E. Minnick, Martha Douglas, Holly Scott, Marguerite Houdershell, Hays Logan, Clark White and Richard Gordon.

Cresaptown Society To Honor Grads

Plans for the annual banquet for graduates were formulated at the meeting of the WSCS of Cresaptown Methodist Church Monday evening at the church, with Mrs. Edward Lewis presiding. The banquet is to be held April 28.

Announcement was made of the zone meeting, to be held April 13 at 10 a. m. in Emmanuel Methodist Church. Each is to bring a box lunch. Also, it was announced that $52.17 was collected at the World Day of Prayer service and will be used for the missions. Officers will be elected at the April 11 meeting at the church. The second 500 cookbooks for sale were received.

Reports included Mrs. Arlie Borror's of $501.98 in the treasury; 136 sick calls made; an attendance of 106, at the fellowship supper for new members; Mrs. W. A. Judy's on $41 sent to the Asbury Home Guild; and a routine report by Mrs. Ellsworth Lewis. A letter of appreciation was read for a box of sheets, pillowcases and towels, besides a cash donation to the Asbury Home.

Devotions, "Giving Thanks in Lent," were under the direction of Mrs. Martin Johnson. The group sang, "Shepherd Like a Savior Lead Us." The Scripture was read and sentence prayers were given. Miss Susan Smith showed a film, "Adventures in Service." Others on the program, "Thanks for Retired Deaconesses," were Mrs. Fred Willison, Mrs. Foster Glover, Mrs. Borror and Mrs. Edward Lewis.

Others attending were Mrs. Trubador Lewis, Mrs. A. G. Shank, Mrs. Blanch Flanagan, Mrs. Hazel Bryant, Mrs. G. E. Broadwater, Mrs. B. E. Heinrich, Mrs. Herbert Martz, Mrs. William Murphy, Mrs. Ayce Poland, Mrs. William Reiley, Mrs. John Thompson and Miss Evelyn May.

Grove 11 Discusses Bake Sale, State Convention

An outline of the state convention to be held in Oakland was given in a letter from Mrs. Mary June Harvey, state president, which was read at the meeting of Queen City Grove 11, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, Friday evening at the WOW hall, Union Street. Mrs. Ruth Spera presided.

The convention will be held May 6 and 7 in Oakland. Immediately following it, the hostess grove will take the entire group on a tour of Deep Creek Lake, Swallow Falls and other points of interest in Garrett County. The tour by bus, and the lunch, will be free to anyone attending the convention.

Mrs. Orlean Frantz reported on the recent rummage sale, publicity points and the February audit. It was announced that Mrs. Edna German is ill. The investigating committee approved the application of Mrs. Edith Ambrose, making the tenth member in the last six months to be initiated at the state convention. Plans were completed for a bake sale, to be held April 15 at the WOW hall, 144 Union Street.

All members were asked to attend the meeting to be held April 21, when there will be balloting on new members; and plans will be completed for those wishing to attend the convention. Reservations are to be made with the grove secretary at least one week in advance of the convention. Mrs. Thelma Growden and Mrs. Edith Ambrose were named hostesses for the next meeting.

After the meeting, the drill team practiced the ritualistic work for the convention. Practice will be held each Friday at 7:30 until further notice. A social hour was held and refreshments will be served, carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme. Mrs. Ruth Spera and Mrs. Margaret Barnes were hostesses.

Electric storms occur about once in 10 years at the North and South Poles.

Membership Reaches 300

The SS. Peter and Paul's Branch of the Third Order of St. Francis has approximately 300 members following an investiture Sunday, with Rev. Sylvan Fondriest, O. F. M., Cap. director, officiating.

New members are Mrs. Gertrude Brode, Mrs. Mathilda Fahey, Mrs. Laura Fraley, Mrs. Katherine Glick, Michael Hartman, Martin Mohler, Matthew Murray, Mrs. Rose Marie Murray, Mrs. Margaret Reichert, Ronald Ricker, Thomas Ricker, Fred Ruppert, Mrs. Caroline Ruppert, David Leonard, Mrs. Edna Leonard, Mrs. Annadel Malloy, Mrs. Mary Baggatti, Mrs. Leonel Baggatti and Mrs. Anna Lepore.

Mrs. Margaret Hartman will inspect Iota Epsilon Chapter, TPL, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle Thursday evening at the scout house.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Firemen will meet Friday at 8 in the fire hall, at which time the membership drive will be discussed. Mrs. Vera Jewell and Mrs. Wilma Chenoweth will be hostesses.

Cresap Homemakers will meet at 9:30 tomorrow evening in Cresaptown Methodist Church. A clothing and food demonstration will be given. The latter will be served at noon.

100 Attend Auxiliary Luncheon

Approximately 100 persons attended the St. Patrick's Day luncheon and card party of the Sacred Heart Hospital Auxiliary held Friday in the Decatur Street nurses home.

Twenty-two tables were in play and prizes were awarded at each. The St. Patrick's motif was carried out in the decorations. Mrs. Louis Lippold, Mrs. John Glick, Mrs. Al Breig and Mrs. Lawrence Matt were the chairmen of arrangements.

The auxiliary formulated plans for three activities in April.

A bake sale will be held April 1, with Mrs. Edward Naughton and Mrs. Winnie Wilkins chairmen.

Mrs. Anna Russell is chairman for a membership tea which will be held April 25, in the Bellevue Street nurses home.

A business meeting will be held April 11 at 8 p. m. in the Decatur Street nurses home instead of April 7, because the regular date is too close to Easter.

W. Md.-Memorial Group Plan Education Program

Mrs. Wilhelmina Shockey, chairman of the program committee for the Western Maryland-Memorial Hospital Alumnae Association, announces an educational program for April and May.

April 5 the speaker for the evening will be Dr. G. Overton Himmelwright. His topic is "Care and Study of Polio Patients."

May 3, Dr. L. Louis Mould will be the speaker. His subject is "Cancer and Cancer Clinic Patients."

These programs will be in conjunction with the regular alumnae meetings, which start at 7:45. The speaker will be at 8. They will be held in the Memorial Hospital nurses home.

All students and outside graduates are invited to attend.

LaVale Trooper Captures Escapees From Boys Camp

Two young escapees from the State Forestry Camp above Lonaconing were recaptured Monday before their absence was discovered, and with their apprehension a stolen car was recovered before it was missed by the owner.

The alert action was taken by Trooper Joseph Helmstetter of the LaVale State Police barracks who noticed the two youths acting in a suspicious manner while driving a car down Braddock Road toward Dingle Circle.

Trooper Helmstetter stopped the vehicle at the circle and was forced to chase one of the youths on foot when he attempted to elude capture.

The youths were taken to the barracks for questioning where they admitted to having walked away from the forestry camp at about 1:30 a. m. Monday.

According to Trooper Helmstetter, the youths walked to Midland where they stole a car belonging to Eugene A. Cesnick. The theft was reported later in the morning to the sheriff's office, and from there referred to the State Police.

State Police informed Cesnick his car had been recovered and also that he would be charged with failure to lock his unattended vehicle. State Police report this charge is being enforced to make people more aware of the danger of car thefts.

Shortly afterwards, officials at the forestry camp called to report the two boys missing, explaining the discovery was made at roll call. The camp officials were told the boys were in custody and would be returned to the camp.

Each of the boys will be charged with escaping from the detention facility, as well as with unauthorized use of a vehicle. In addition, the driver of the stolen car will face a charge of operating a vehicle without a license.

Nurse Completes Cardiac Training In Baltimore

Miss Jo Ann Hafer, Ellerslie, recently completed a six-week cardiac training course at University Hospital, Baltimore.

Miss Hafer attended the course through the efforts of Lambda Chapter Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association.

A 1951 graduate of Allegany High School, Miss Hafer is a member of the nursing staff at Memorial Hospital. She also is a graduate of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Her training in Baltimore included all phases of work with various heart diseases.

Plan To Fix Washington's Cabin Asked

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder has recommended that George Washington headquarters in Riverside Park be repaired and opened to the public and that the Daughters of the American Revolution be asked if they would serve as hostesses for visitors.

The Mayor and Council Monday approved both suggestions.

Mrs. Roeder said the building is in need of repairs and there is a problem of keeping it open for inspection. She said no specific reason existed for the fact the headquarters was not open on Washington's Birthday which is an occasion it should always be open.

Mrs. Roeder said the building is settling in the southeast corner. Another problem is caused by children playing ball nearby. There is not room enough to play ball and children keep the grass in a bad condition.

The building and area looks shabby and the roof needs repairs, she said.

Mrs. Roeder said if the DAR takes over the job as hostesses, that organization can inform the city when work is needed on the structure.

"I believe we should hold on to it and keep it as nice as possible," Mrs. Roeder said, adding that among the numerous visitors the headquarters has had was one from South Africa.

Court House Offices To Close Good Friday

All offices at the Court House will be closed Good Friday, March 31, and the Allegany County Board of Commissioners said that persons who have not purchased their new auto license tags must do so by March 30 if they wish to operate their vehicles.

Closing on Good Friday will provide Court House employees with a long Easter weekend holiday.

County Board Makes Ruling On Budgets

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has made a final decision on the Welfare Board budget.

Commissioner John T. Mason said the Welfare Board budget will be subject to some change pending legislation, but in any event it will not be larger. Any action taken by the legislature will affect the budget by either requiring less county funds or leaving the figure as it now stands.

A total of $15,000 was cut from the Welfare Board budget with the county providing $222,807 of the $1,461,279 total. The county's share is 20 per cent of the total. The federal government pays the bulk of all public welfare costs with the state matching the county funds.

Judge Harris To Speak To County Bar Group

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris will speak at the dinner meeting of the Allegany County Bar Association on Thursday at 6 p. m. at the Cumberland Country Club.

Judge Harris will use as his topic, "The Metamorphosis of the Justice of Peace and Trial Magistrates Courts."

Ridgeley Band To Entertain PTA

Ridgeley High School PTA will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The Ridgeley High School Band, directed by Karl Pfeifer, band music instructor for Ridgeley schools, will appear in concert.

A short business meeting will follow the concert.

Keeping Up With Hollywood
by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—When Fred Astaire won a Golden Globe award he said, "I don't want to appear too modest, but I am grateful to my dancing for giving me this honor." But there'll be no dancing, and no singing for Fred in "Notorious Landlady" with Kim Novak and Jack Lemmon. He plays the role of a diplomat for which Douglas Fairbanks was first rumored.

Sam Briskin set the deal for Fred to play the No. 2 man in the American Embassy, and Jack Lemmon's buddy, Kim and the boys check in at Columbia immediately, and the movie starts April 3 with Dick Quine directing. It's a Freddie Kohlmar production.

Al Zimbalist and Byron Roberts have no intention of making one-type movies. They are completing at Columbia "The Valley of the Dragons," a Jules Verne story, and Al told me that he and Byron have the rights to Marilyn Miller's life story. "I think it will make a great picture," he said.

"You shouldn't have started talking about Marilyn Miller," I told him, "because I knew her so well and liked her both when she was a Ziegfeld star and in 'Sunny,' 'Sally' and so many other wonderful musicals on Broadway. Later she came to Hollywood and did 'Sunny' as a motion picture for Warners. You ought to talk to Mecca Graham."

Al thinks Dorothy Provine would make a lovely Marilyn Miller. "She has that same sweetness," he said.

With Mark Twain in public domain, both Walt Disney, and the team of Sam Bischoff and David

Diamond are planning to make "The Prince and the Pauper." Bischoff and Diamond have made all arrangements to film "The Beggar Prince" adapted from Twain's "Prince and the Pauper," starring Roger Moore. Twenty-four years ago the swashbuckling Miles Hendon role was played by Errol Flynn in a Warner Bros. version.

England's Sylvia Syms, who was so beautiful as a nun in "Conspiracy of Hearts," is being sought for the lead opposite Moore. Diamond leaves for England almost immediately to institute search for twin boys about ten years old—one to play the prince and the other to play the pauper.

Disney, who is calling his movie "The Prince and the Pauper," has not yet announced a cast.

Lord Plunkett, grandson of the late Fanny Ward, has told Gail Gaither that he approves of Gaither's book and of the upcoming movie about Fanny's life on the Paramount lot. Lady Plunkett, Fanny's daughter, was a close friend of Queen Mother Elizabeth before she and her husband were killed in an airplane accident.

I'd like to talk to Mr. Gaither about Fanny, a close friend of mine for many years. The first time I went to London, unknown and wide-eyed, she gave a party in my honor at which I met many international celebrities, including Sorel, the great actress. More than anything in the world, Fanny wanted to be young and until the day of her death, an old woman, she wore big picture hats and Jeanne Lippie gowns. Gaither wants Lee Remick for the role of Fanny.

The bidding:
North Pass 1♦ 1♥
Pass Pass Double Pass
1♠ Pass 2NT Pass
3NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♥
The bidding of today's hand was not in accordance with textbook instruction and a comment or two may be in order. West's overall of the diamond bid was not of the best but, in consideration of the fact that he was not vulnerable, you may find it in your heart to forgive him.

South's double to reopen the bidding is eminently sound and North had little choice but to name his best suit. At this point South engaged in a bit of romancing with a rather sporty bid of two no trump. Since the heart suit had not been supported, he gambled that partner would have an honor. Incidentally, a player holding queen and another of the suit bid by his left hand adversary is in fine strategic position to play no trump if it should develop that partner has either the ace or the king of that suit. The reason is that if the defender opens his own suit, the lead will be permitted to ride to the queen and in this way declarer is able to promote two tricks instead of one, which would be the case if the lead came through the queen.

North's raise to three no trump on the surface appears to be a bold bid but in reality is not so. He has passed the first time, and his response to partner's double showed nothing whatever except four spades. He has five points in high cards and another potential stopper in the suit adversely bid.

West led the six of hearts which East won with the king. The contract stands or falls with declarer's play to the first trick. If he should thoughtlessly play the nine, his doom is sealed. East returns the five, and the queen is permitted to hold the trick. Dummy can now be entered only once and the diamond finesse cannot be repeated.

The proper play to trick one is the queen of hearts. When the suit is continued, West will duck as before, but the nine may be overtaken in dummy with the jack and the diamond finesse tried. When this succeeds, dummy is re-entered with the ace of spades, and the repetition of the diamond finesse brings home enough tricks to fulfill the optimistic contract.

Board Urged To Back Funds For College Plan

Four persons have written the Allegany County Board of Commissioners urging that the proposed budget item of $30,000 be approved for a community two-year college in Cumberland.

Those favoring the program are Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, a member of the council of the City of Cumberland; George E. Davis, Mrs. Grace C. VanPeit, and Mrs. Edna C. Powers.

The commissioners also received a letter from the Mt. Royal School PTA urging the board to approve the proposed $50,000 bond issue for new school construction.

Ann Landers . . .
Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 33, have never been married but I've had many romances. I've been dating a woman who is 43 but she doesn't look it. If she didn't have grandchildren she could pass for 35.

Kitty has had rotten luck with men. Her first husband died and she has been divorced three times. She's smart with finances and with her settlement money she bought three different businesses. They are all doing well. I run one of her businesses, which is how we met.

Kitty tells everyone she's going to marry me or die in the attempt. My brothers tell me I'd be insane to marry a woman with her record, but they don't understand her. She is really a sweet kid, and quite helpless. You are a pretty sensible dame. Do you have any advice for me?—TY

DEAR TY: This woman sounds about as helpless as A. T. & I. I agree with your brothers that a three-time loser is a poor marriage risk. And the 10 years difference in your age could be a real problem in 10 years—sooner. From here you get a veto.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The problem concerns our adult son who is highly intelligent and has an excellent family background. He has been going steady for three years with a young lady who has neither intelligence nor family background. He cannot decide if he wants to marry her.

Our problem is this: If we continue to extend our warm hospitality (he brings her to dinner often) and then decides to drop her, she will feel that we gave her false hope. If we stop having her over, and she later becomes our daughter-in-law, she will feel that we were against her.

Also, she did not graduate from high school and is virtually illiterate. Her thank-you letter for a Christmas gift had 26 mistakes. We'd like her to hire a tutor and learn to speak and write correctly. Do we have the right to ask her to do so?—D.L.W.
DEAR D.L.W.: Your home should be open to any young woman your son wishes to invite—provided she behaves herself. She comes at HIS invitation, so you are not giving her "false hope."

It's not your place to encourage her to educate herself under any circumstances. During courtship young people have a peculiar deafness. After marriage the hearing suddenly improves. This is THEIR problem, however, not yours.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a boy 16 who needs your help. My older brother taught me how to drive and I am an excellent driver. I passed the test and got my driver's license three weeks ago. The trouble is, my dad won't let me have the car. He says I am too young.

If the law says I am old enough and I earned my license isn't that enough? We had a long talk and he claims my mother is a nervous wreck when she knows I have the car. Is this fair to me? Please answer in the paper so they can see it—S.O.S.

DEAR S.O.S.: This is for your father. Please show it to him: DEAR DAD: You can't raise your son under a glass bell. This is the machine age in every sense of the word. A boy who has earned his license should have the car a few hours every week. Let him take the family for a ride. When his mother sees that he is a careful driver she will be less nervous. If he gets a ticket or abuses time privileges then you have the right to forbid him to use the car.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Lock Out Colds — With The Key Of C

"Sprig has cut!" Soon every body will be singing it out — and just that way, amplified by a head cold. Will you be joining the chorus, at the first sinus of Spring?

If you'd rather not catch one of those lingering Spring colds, you can strike the right note now — HIGH C! This is the elusive vitamin to take in massive doses to build up your resistance against infection.

Vitamin C, or ascorbic acid, cannot be stored long within the body. It must be replenished daily, 365 days a year. And, at certain ages and in certain seasons, Vitamin C intake should be increased. Teenagers, for instance, should have a minimum of 80 to 100 milligrams of ascorbic acid daily — and some nutritionists would double or triple that amount, so the young people might keep pace with their rapid growth and development.

Everyone should have more than the minimum of Vitamin C at certain times . . . during the months when the seasons are changing, during the weeks when temperatures are hottest or coldest . . . during the days when there is "sickness in the air," or when one's work-load is heavier than usual. Or, if you've been too late with too little resistance and already have your Spring cold, stoke yourself now with extra C for quicker recovery, faster healing of fever sores and red noses.

Oranges and grapefruit supply the most ascorbic acid, and there's a good share, also in tomatoes and vegetable juices, in strawberries and most other berries, in potatoes and green leafy vegetables like broccoli and raw cabbage, in melons and apples. Because Vitamin C is easily destroyed by heat or exposure, keep your supplies fresh and partake of them immediately after preparation.

A tiny glassful will never do! Aim to assimilate a whole orange or half a grapefruit every day, or its equivalent in juice. Then, add to that a tall tumbler of tomato juice or a raw tomato or two, at lunch or dinner. (With strawberries for dessert! What pleasant "medicine.")

Dieters have no excuse to dodge Vitamin C. Its sources are low-calorie by nature. An 8-oz. glass of fresh unsweetened orange juice counts just 100 calories. Even sweetening costs but 22 more. The same amount of canned tomato juice is only 50 calories.

There is more to explore in nutrition with the booklet, "Personality Plus Through Diet," which I will be happy to send to you if you will write to me, John Powers, c/o this newspaper. Please enclose 25c and your name and address, and allow 2 weeks for delivery.

County Receives List Of Available Surplus Foods

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received a letter pertaining to the type foods which are available for distribution in the county to needy persons.

William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable foods plan for the State Department of Procurement and Budget, said foods added to the list are butter, canned pork and gravy, rolled oats, peas, beans, and peanut butter.

Brugger pointed out that these additional foods will only be on the list as long as market conditions warrant the U. S. Department of Agriculture to purchase them to keep prices in the market stable.

Foods which have been available prior to the recent additions are flour, cornmeal, dry milk, dried whole eggs, rice and lard, Brugger said.

The commissioners took no action on resuming the program, which was discontinued about a year ago.

Ribbons Awarded

An exhibit of the work of art group featured the program at the "Open House" of the Woman's Civic Club, attended by approximately 250 members and their husbands, at the club house.

Mrs. Arch Hutcheson is chairman of the art group. Mrs. John Brennenman was awarded a blue ribbon for first place; Mrs. Arthur Fuller, a red ribbon, and Mrs. Donald Grove, a yellow ribbon. A cash award was presented to the art group by the club.

The hospitality committee, with Mrs. Lawrence Brown chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

Deaths And Funerals

WILLIAM T. LEE
LONACONING — William T. Lee, 83, former resident, died Tuesday at his home, 796 Newport Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Born in Lonaconing, he was a son of the late James T. and Janet (Scott) Lee. His wife, Jessie (Abbott) Lee preceded him in death.

Surviving are four sons, James, John, William and Robert Lee, all of Detroit; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Travis, Louisville, Ken. and Mrs. Charles Gaden, Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Mary Smith, Pittsburgh, and a brother, Alex Lee, Cumberland.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in Detroit.

MRS. HANSEN DEAN

Mrs. Margaret R. Dean, 90, of 305 South Mount Street, Baltimore, died there Sunday in City Hospital.

Mrs. Dean was a former resident of Cumberland, and was the widow of Hansen Dean, who died in 1938.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where friends will be received from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

FRANK W. HERING
Frank William Hering, 71, died suddenly yesterday evening at his home, 128 Polk Street.

A native of Cumberland, he was a son of the late Frederick and Clara (Ogle) Hering. Mr. Hering was a retired employee of the Hering and Sharer Plumbing and Heating Company and was a member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

He is survived by a sister, Miss Helen V. Hering, and a brother, George F. Hering, both at home.

The body is at the Knight Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Barton Girl Scouts Visit Teen Town

BARTON — Mrs. Graydon Andrews, Troop Leader of the Barton Girl Scouts took a group of the girls to Teen Town at Frostburg recently.

Scouts attending were Carol Langham, Linda Kiddy, Candy Cooper, Bobbie Keyes, Deane Mowbray. Guests were Gayle Griffith, Helena Custer and Mrs. Harold Kiddy.

Easter Seal Sale Reported Below Last Year's Total

Proceeds from the annual Easter Seal Sale campaign reached the $4,857 mark Monday when $137 was received at Allegany County League For Crippled Children headquarters in City Hall Plaza.

The total is still slightly below the amount received at the same time a year ago. The Seal Sale campaign will end Easter Sunday, April 2.

George A. Schwarzenbach, Seal Sale chairman, said a number of packets had been returned to the league because of wrong addresses. These packets are being re-mailed today and should be received within a short time.

Seal Sale funds account for nearly a third of the league's financial support which is strictly voluntary.

Schwarzenbach yesterday urged those with Seals to send their contributions to the league as soon as possible. It is hoped to raise $10,000, the same amount as last year.

Women were accepted as policemen by the New York police force back in 1889.

Pupils Present Space Play

Children of Grades 4, 5 and 6 of East Side School will present "Project Mars," an original play, today and Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Approximately 200 will participate.

The play opens in a classroom where the teacher, Robert Fisher, is conducting a science lesson. The following are students in the class: Brent Boore, John Blades, Linda Morral, Linda Sullivan, Ellen Golden, William Meister, Bettie Hedrick, Ophelia Reynolds, James Decker, Janet Atkinson, and Susan Clark. The plot revolves around a report prepared for the class by Brent Boore entitled Project Mars.

The Martians, who visit Planet Earth, are Richard May, Deborah Byrd, Annette Fey, Randolph Price, Barbara Johnson and Susan Swan. The Martians tour the building and see a social studies class, a physical education class, a literature class, a music class and a group preparing for an assembly program.

The boy's chorus composed of Charles Blacklin, Allen McGaughey, Jerry Jones, Terry Andrews, Robert Eyer, Richard Reed and William Sherwood will sing "Comin' Round the Mountain" and "Git Up Napoleon."

The girl's chorus, Joyce Hansrote, Carolyn Hedrick, Mary Dawson, Margaret Klavuhn, Vera Rice, Linda Robey, Carolyn Wilson, and Susan Klavuhn will sing, "The Best Things in Life Are Free," "This is My Country" and "The Space Hop."

Susan Gulick, Annette Fey, Deborah Beckward and Vicki Cabbage will be featured as dancers.

The program is in charge of the following classroom teachers, Miss Orpha Clark, Miss Betty Morgan, Miss Grace Moore, Mrs. Daisy Rosenmerkel, Mrs. Jacquelyn Wolfe and Robert Miller assisted by Mrs. Simon K. Carroll, music resource teacher.

Gets Official Visit

KEYSER — Alkire Chapter No. 10 Order of the Eastern Star of Keyser will receive an official visit from Mrs. Vera M. McFadden, St. Albans, worthy grandmatron of West Virginia, Friday, at 7:30 p. m.

A dinner will be given in her honor in the Rosemont Restaurant at 6 p. m., Friday.

Following the meeting a program and refreshments will be held. All members are invited.

In the early 1900s, when the livelier wound-rubber golf ball was introduced over the old gutta percha type, most golf courses had to be enlarged to keep the new ball in bounds.

Do You Suffer From Sick, Throbbing Migraine Headaches?

New Medical Discovery Never Before Available Now Released To Public. So Safe No Prescription Needed.

Today, science has announced a doctor's new formula which has been especially developed to relieve both the throbbing pain and sickish feeling of migraine-type headaches. Tests conducted by a practicing New York physician showed that in patient after patient—pain-relief and comfort were obtained in minutes. And all without the use of narcotics, codeine or ergot remedies which may upset the stomach and so further aggravate the condition.

This remarkable new formula is called Duplexin®. It is the first headache discovery in the history of medicine with this exclusive formula. (A unique 2-layer pink and white tablet). It relieves both headache pain and a sick, upset stomach with this exclusive formula.

Here are the medical facts why Duplexin is safer, faster, more effective—why it's unlike the usual headache remedies. Only Duplexin unifies powerful doctor-approved pain relievers with this special stomach-soothing antacid. In seconds, Duplexin does what no aspirin or buffered aspirin can ever do. It contains exclusive hospital-tested medications not found in any alkalizer or seltzer. Duplexin's white layer concentrates on relieving pain faster. Throbbing pain relieved in minutes. Its pink layer relieves that sickish feeling and protects your stomach as it keeps on speeding relief.

Duplexin also calms nervous stress (which so often causes migraine) and helps relieve depression. Taken at the first sign of an attack, Duplexin actually helps prevent those migraine pains. Ask for Duplexin Tablets at any drugstore. Now available without prescription.

Social Chart

A meeting of the Medical Assistants of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Association will have a dinner meeting tonight at the Cumberland Country Club, with Dr. W. Royce Hodges as guest speaker. His topic is "Flying Physicians."

Beta Sigma Phi City Council will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. William Wood, Armstrong Avenue, Frostburg, at 8 p. m. Final plans for the card party will be made.

County Bill Is Enacted

One Allegany County bill has been enacted and two others passed in the General Assembly this week.

Enacted was Senate Bill 375, sponsored by State Senator Charles M. See. It provides that no town or sanitary district in the county shall be included in a county-wide planning and zoning program without the consent of its legislative body. The City of Cumberland excluded from the provisions of the bill, when introduced by request, by the wording "The term County... shall include all cities and incorporated towns and sanitary districts or other municipalities... containing less than ten thousand inhabitants."

During passage, the 10,000 population restriction was stricken out by amendment, so the provisions apply to any municipality in the county, including Cumberland.

The Senate passed Senate Bills 505 and 506, both sponsored by Senator See. The first requires the county to provide a full education program for retarded children up to 18, and the other would authorize the county commissioners to borrow $300,000 to construct a water line from the Savage River Dam to Cumberland.

County Band

He began the study of piano in the fourth grade and soon after took up the trumpet. In 1941 he enlisted in the Third U.S. Cavalry at Fort Myer, Va. and was assigned to the band. Two years later he was assigned to the Army Music School, received a warrant and was made leader of the 73rd Army Air Force Band at Sioux Falls, S.D. In 1944 the band was assigned overseas to the 15th Air Force in Italy.

Two years later he returned to the University of North Carolina as brass instructor and assistant director of bands. In 1954 he was named director of bands at Montana State University, and in 1955 he went to the University of Maryland as director of bands.

Mr. Berman received his B.S. degree from Julliard School of Music; M.A. from Teachers College, Columbia University; and the doctorate from the University of Michigan.

He has given concerts as a violinist in New York, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa, Maryland and Washington, D.C. and has conducted at county festivals and given numerous demonstrations at string clinics and with high school orchestras.

Mr. Berman has taught in New York and Michigan public schools and at the University of Michigan, and has been with the University of Maryland since 1957, teaching strings and conducting the University Symphony Orchestra.

Rocket Group Elects Officers

Albert M. Jacobs of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, has been named president of the local section of the American Rocket Society which met Monday to select officers and adopt by-laws.

The group is seeking approval of its by-laws and of the name "Allegheny Section of the American Rocket Society" from the national association.

In addition to Jacobs, other officers are William H. Fuller, vice president; M. Dolores Ehrich, secretary; and David L. May, treasurer. Named to the Board of Directors are Edward J. Sheehy, Edward J. Skurzynski; Dean D. Weller and George H. Moody. All officers are from ABL with the exception of Day who is with Allegany Instrument Company.

The group has been known as the Western Maryland Section but decided on the designation of "Allegheny" Monday.

At the present time there are 100 members and applications for members in the society combined. Applications are still being accepted, including those from associate members.

At its next meeting in April, the group is planning a dinner and on having a speaker of national renown in the field of astronautics.

Civil Service Tests Will Be Well Attended

Nearly 80 applications have been submitted to City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery for examinations planned by the Civil Service Commission next week.

Leading the applications are 48 who applied to take the test for fireman, 21 for police, seven for stenographer Class 4 and two for stenographer Class 6.

The applications will be reviewed by the commission, which will send notices to applicants who are approved.

The examinations will be held Wednesday, March 29, at 7 p.m. in Fort Hill High School.

Dwelling Permit Issued Here

Angela J. R. Potts, RD 1, Flintstone, has been issued a permit to construct a brick veneer dwelling and business establishment at a cost of about $10,000.

James G. Stevenson, clerk to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, said the dwelling will have a concrete block foundation, composition roof and a cellar.

Florist To Speak

Creamer Case Will Go To Jury

BALTIMORE (AP) — The case of a youth charged with slaying Frank Creamer, unemployed father of five children, goes to the jury in Criminal Court Wednesday.

Creamer was beaten and robbed on a West Baltimore street Aug. 13. He died the following day.

The defendant, 18-year-old James P. Ewell, told the court he was with Charles Davis, a co-defendant, the night the attack occurred. Davis was sentenced to life imprisonment last December. But, Ewell contended, he didn't know the victim would be beaten. The defendant told Judge Emory H. Niles he accepted $10 of the $21 taken in the robbery.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age. Lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Linn To Head Post 1411, VFW

William P. Linn, 218 Pennsylvania Avenue, a veteran of World War II and a draftsman at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, last night was elected commander of Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other officers for the coming year include Jack Whittington, senior vice commander; Robert Gilpin, junior vice commander; Ray Settle, chaplain.

James Darling, quartermaster; Eugene Bartone, surgeon; Vernon Crable, judge advocate; and Vernon J. Winner, three-year trustee. Mr. Crable was commander of the local post during the past year.

Irvin E. Marders, Department Commander of Maryland, will install the officers at a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. April 15 at the post home.

A New Concept Of Military Transport

First fruits of a recast U. S. defense strategy have fallen to Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and its subcontractors. For the next four years they will be developing and manufacturing a modernized troop carrier for use in dousing small wars that might lead to the big one.

Even before warnings from Secretary of State Rusk and Defense Secretary McNamara about over-reliance on nuclear retaliation, President Kennedy, in his State of the Union message, said additional air transport mobility was needed to "better assure the ability of our conventional forces to respond, with discrimination and speed, to any problem spot on the globe."

U. S. troop transport workhorse has been the C124 Globemaster with its four piston engines, speed of 230 miles an hour, ceiling of 10,000 feet and a range of 1,800 miles with a 20-ton load. An improved version, the C133, can cruise at 300 miles an hour, has a range of 3,700 miles with a 20-ton payload and operates between 15,000 and 30,000 feet.

The new jet carrier will be designed to hop the Atlantic or Pacific nonstop, cruise at better than 500 miles an hour above 25,000 feet and get off runways shorter than 6,000 feet. That would make it handy for trouble spots only recently carved out of the jungle.

An expenditure of a billion dollars is contemplated for 100 of these planes. The Defense Department has specified that they be adaptable as commercial cargo carriers.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
The Dichotomy Of Trade

Every week, mail comes from some industry or some press agencies dealing with the subject of imports. The concern is very profound. Certain American industries are convinced that they are being squeezed out of the American market by cheaper imported products. American workers are frightened.

Before World War I, when a free market existed, it was possible to fight unfair competition. Today, when governments determine the wages, hours of work, taxes, indirectly the prices of raw materials and subsidize enterprises by various devices, the markets of the world are no longer free and the danger to labor in a high-wage country is that jobs will be wiped out. This is one cause for increased unemployment.

The storage battery manufacturers, who are in direct competition with Japanese, find that some Japanese batteries are sold at a lower price in the United States than in Japan.

The Dry Battery Section of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association consists of seven companies which employ 8,000 Americans and have an annual payroll of $35,000,000. This is not a very large number of workers, but they are widely scattered over the United States and their loss of employment would seriously affect many communities.

The transistorized radio set has grown increasingly popular in the United States. Young people carry transistor radios with them to sports, games and even to musical events. The transistorized radio has become acceptable very rapidly. Having come into the market importantly in 1957, three years later, in 1960, the transistor portable radios sold against tube radios at the ratio of seven to one. Japanese manufacturers entered the American market immediately and can afford to underbid American manufacturers because of cheaper wages, lower taxes and government subsidies in Japan.

According to the American industry, American manufacturers make about 120 different types of radio batteries, this constituting a complete line. Their publicity says:

"... However, three transistor types, No. 1015, No. 216 and No. 226, make up over 50% of total radio battery sales. The Japanese export to the U. S. only the most popular types."

The industry figures show:

	1959	1960	1961
U.S. Production	5,800,000	12,000,000	EST 12,000,000
Japanese Imports	3,350,000	7,355,000	EST 16,146,000

The basis for competition between American and Japanese radios is that the average American worker in this industry receives $2 an hour whereas a Japanese worker receives the equivalent of 30 cents an hour. Japanese No. 216 batteries cost in New York about 15 cents; American No. 216 batteries sell to distributors for about 70 cents. The argument that the American battery is superior and will last longer is not particularly pertinent as this is a price rather than a quality market.

This is one instance of an American industry being pushed to the wall by foreign competition protected by political considerations. The United States is Japan's best market. It is to the military and political interests of the United States that Japan should be oriented our way. Japan's alternative is to become economically a producer for the Red China market. For Japan this would mean ultimate absorption in the Soviet Universal State, as Japan cannot stand alone. For the United States, the loss of Japan as a principal ally could be disastrous in Asia. The Japanese have to import not only raw materials but food. Their country being only about 20 percent arable, they have no alternative but to manufacture for export and they must have a market where there is no political opposition to them.

This then is the dilemma that faces both Japan and the United States. Japan's principal market is the United States, but everything that Japan exports to the United States in any quantity is manufactured in the United States. If we close the American market to Japanese manufacturers, we force the Japanese to go over to Red China; if we permit our markets to be flooded by lower-priced Japanese goods, we throw American labor out of work.

This is a very difficult problem that cannot be solved by oratory or by wild statements. The pressure of American labor for protection is becoming increasingly great. Instead of the industrialists demanding protection, they solve their problem by moving their plants abroad where wages and taxes are low. They, in effect, export jobs. On the other hand, the labor unions are beginning to demand protection. The pressure can become a major political issue and therefore requires more than casual thought.

Professors Change View Of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — Not so very long ago those persons who publicly criticized the Supreme Court of the United States for its "de-segregation" decision were being accused of "defiance" of our "judicial institutions" or of trying to "undermine their prestige." But no such treatment probably is in store for the 250 "leading American professors" in 79 universities and colleges who have just issued to the press of the nation a bitter statement criticizing the Supreme Court. They object to the fact that the Supreme Court in two successive cases has declared constitutional the right of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to require witnesses under certain circumstances to answer questions about Communist activities in America. Indeed, this is today "the law of the land."

The professors, in their statement, contend that they are "dedicated to the proposition that free enquiry and free expression nourish mental growth and are thus basic to the nation's growth." But then the same 250 professors go on to demand the "abolition" of the House Committee because they do not agree with its expressions of opinion or its attempts to elicit information about Communist operation in this country.

While the same statement condemns "trial by publicity," the officials of the American Civil Liberties Union — who say they "canvassed" the professors to obtain their signatures — announce that this organization is "engaged in a long-range campaign" against the continuance of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

It is not clear just what the professors want to accomplish outside or inside American colleges and universities, though there is an implication that they believe they have a right to carry this type of controversy directly into their classrooms. Presumably there would be nobody with similar knowledge present on the other side to rebut their arguments before the students. The professors, in their statement, complain that "many teachers in the colleges and universities, as well as in the public schools, have grown timid about stating, even for classroom discussion, ideas which someone later might interpret as subversive."

What the professors really object to is the effort of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to do something which none of the executive agencies like the CIA or the FBI can do — namely, to expose in the midst of the "cold war" the workings of the Communist apparatus inside the United States.

The professors who signed the latest petition do not hesitate to identify themselves with the prestige conveyed by the names of the universities and colleges that employ them. Thus the statement, in giving the list of the 250 professors, attaches in each case the name of the university or college where they teach and their subjects. The following notation is included:

"The institutional affiliation of the remaining signers is for the purposes of identification only and in no way commits the institution to the views expressed."

But why is it necessary to "identify" these professors by using the name of their respective colleges and universities and by specifying the subjects they teach? Will the general public assume that, because these professors

KENNEDY HUMOR — At a recent dinner, Washington correspondents presented the President with two replicas of the lanterns used to signal Paul Revere from Boston's Old North Church.

Accepting them, Kennedy brought the house down with the remark, "One for Smith (Rep. Howard Smith of the House Rules Committee) and two for Halleck (House Republican leader)."

MOVING DAY — A change of administration means, among other things, a mammoth moving day in Washington. Incoming and outgoing Presidents are fortunate, the work is done for them.

But to the lower forms of political life, such as Senators and Representatives, it can get to be one huge headache.

The new Democratic Senator from Wyoming, J. J. Hickey, has gone through a moving experience that sums it all up. Hickey had planned to move into his new Washington home on a recent day, only to learn that he had been assigned a Senate suite that required him to move into his office on that day, also.

Needless to say, Hickey and his wife went through tortures as they tried to sort office material from home furnishings, supervise the disposition of innumerable articles, and, of course, keep smiling.

When the dust settled, Mrs. Hickey could not locate most of her silver, chinaware and some favorite knick-knacks. She doesn't know whether they're still in Cheyenne, in the Senator's office, or delivered to a wrong party. Senator Hickey feels the same way about some of his important papers.

Exercises That Can Strengthen The Arches

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Exercises to keep the metatarsal arches strong and flexible should be done by everyone, especially children. The young have their lives before them and if they keep their feet in good condition, they will not be listed among the foot sufferers of tomorrow.

The late Dr. Philip Lewin frequently recommended the door-stop exercise to increase the strength of the toes and supporting structures of the metatarsal arches. He advised his patients to buy two old fashioned wooden doorstops at the hardware store. The rubber tips were to be removed and the stoppers screwed

6 inches apart into a 14 inch strip of 2x8 board. Another board of the same height as the stops was nailed on the end of the larger board to act as a heel rest.

The board was placed on the floor and the individual was instructed to sit in a chair, with the heels resting on the heel rest, and the metatarsal arches placed on the doorstops. The exercise was performed by grasping the knobs of the stops with the toes. This was done at least 100 times at each sitting.

A variation of this exercise is to use the toes to pick up marbles or various sizes from the rug. A golf or rubber ball makes a good substitute. A more difficult trick is to place the ball with one foot and place it under the toes of the other one. Still another maneuver is to roll a pencil on a hard floor, pushing it backward with the toes curled downward as though scratching the floor.

The towel exercise is another suggestion that can be used as a game with children. A large hand towel is spread on the carpet, with the narrow edge facing the individual. The front half of both feet should be placed on the towel. At a "go" signal the towel is grasped and pulled, first with the toes of one foot and then with those of the other. The object is to get the entire towel under the feet.

Meanwhile, let's not neglect nature's way of strengthening the feet by walking, running, jumping rope, and standing tiptoe. It helps also to walk properly, with the toes pointed straight ahead. Hold the shoulders back and the head up.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on flat feet if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Speeding ambulances.

Catholic Clerical Press Attacks First President Of Same Faith

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Behind President Kennedy's plea for reason in the discussion of federal aid for Catholic schools was a series of editorials in the Catholic press critical of his stand plus a move by the clergy to mobilize Catholic laymen all over the country to bombard their Congressmen against the Kennedy aid-to-education bill.

Significantly only one leading Catholic paper, the Commonweal, has vigorously come to the defense of the first Catholic president in history. Commonweal is edited by lay Catholics. It was the first Catholic publication, and for some time the only one, to criticize the late Sen. Joe McCarthy.

In contrast, America, the Jesuit Weekly, in an article by Father Charles M. Whelan, charges that Kennedy's statement regarding the unconstitutionality of aid to Catholic schools was "erroneous, inopportune and unnecessary."

"We could and did expect a silence respectful of the problem," said Father Whelan. "As President of the United States... he should avoid unnecessary pronouncements on delicate constitutional issues."

Then the Jesuit weekly took this crack at the only Catholic in the Kennedy cabinet, brother Bobby: "Neither Mr. Kennedy nor his Attorney General enjoy the reputation of great constitutional lawyers."

The Transcript of Hartford, Conn., was also caustic.

"It is no part of the President's business to rule them (aid to parochial schools) out peremptorily," said the Transcript. "The President gave ample evidence here of unbecoming haste in judgment and a dismaying lack of fairness."

The Transcript then asked all readers to start a letter-writing campaign to their Congressmen.

Our Sunday Visitor, published in Huntington, Ind., but distributed nationally, featured an article by one of its editors, Father Richard Ginder, dissecting the Kennedy position against aid to Catholic schools. Aside for a caustic swipe at Kennedy's "brains and beauty," Father Ginder concentrates on the issues rather than the President personally.

Kennedy's Defender

However, Commonweal, the Catholic newspaper not edited or dominated by the clergy, defended Kennedy and chided the hierarchy.

"The Roman Catholic hierarchy," it wrote, "has now added a religious problem to the administration's aid to education headache... the administration's program is, under present circumstances, as good as one can hope for. It is realistic, carefully wrought out and establishes valuable and significant precedents."

"Above all, its measures to improve our educational system are manifestly and urgently needed. Even so... the school bill will have to face a punishing liberal-conservative - southern - secular-religious cross fire. We hope that its wounds will not prove fatal."

Bitterness In Puerto Rico

The other type of criticism which Kennedy had in mind when he appealed for "reason" was given by Sen. Hipolito Marciano, Puerto Rican Senator-at-large, in testimony before the U.S. Senate Education Subcommittee. Sen. Marciano compared the current Catholic attempt to influence legislation with the attempt of the Bishops to interfere in Puerto Rican politics last fall to defeat Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin.

"It started with a little bill to establish religious education for public school children through the released-time plan," testified Sen. Marciano. "The bill was an attempt to circumvent the constitutional mandate of the people of Puerto Rico. In spite of ecclesiastical power we defeated the bill..."

"Next the Bishops went out and organized a political party — the Christian Action Party, to be used as a political weapon of the church to launch a frontal attack, not only to capture the public schools of Puerto Rico, but also to capture the government of Puerto Rico. The pulpit was turned into a political forum, the people were coerced and threatened with excommunication if they did not follow the political advice of the hierarchy. Fear and spiritual punishment was pumped into their minds, but they resisted firmly."

Sen. Marciano cited the Bishops' pastoral letter telling the people it was a "sin" to vote for the popular Democratic Party... "the three Bishops tried to act as political leaders," Marciano said. "The Bishops tried to destroy the loyalty of the people to their political party and failed... we faced this issue squarely... we sincerely hope you will share with us the benefits of this democratic achievement."

The Bishops were not foreigners, he said. Archbishop Davis was born in Philadelphia and Bishop McManus in Brooklyn.

"These men were all educated in the Roman Catholic institutions of higher learning in the United States. They are blood brothers of your Roman Catholic Bishops, the same who are vamping you, in effect, that unless they get concessions for their church school system by loans or grants there will be no aid to the public schools either here or in Puerto Rico."

"Bear in mind," continued the Senator from Puerto Rico, "that it was the Roman Catholic people of Puerto Rico in great numbers who joined with non-Catholic Puerto Ricans to bring about this great victory."

"What you are facing here is a tactical attack on the public school system of our nation by those who are not only vehement in their criticisms of our public schools, but who would substitute for them, parochial schools supervised, tightly controlled and wholly owned by ecclesiastical authorities although financed with public funds."

"They say there should be public taxation to support sectarian public schools in the control of which the people have no representation and over which the government has no supervision or control but in which there is exclusive control by those who are tax-exempt."

"In the first case there is taxation without representation and in the second case it is representation without taxation."

This is some of the educational-secular debate which President Kennedy wants to avoid, but which appears to be getting more vehement.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

FORT PIERCE, Fla.—When the day starts bad, go back to bed. Don't fight it. Matters are never so bad they can't get worse. I had a diem dolorosa Saturday. Before it was over, I wished I was dead—and couldn't even achieve that.

It started off just like any other hell, dragging the alabaster body out of the covers and taking a short cut around the foot of the bed enroute to the bathroom. The leg of the bed wedged itself between the big toe and the second toe. It isn't Christian to start a day off with that kind of language. Dancing, too.

Lots of lather. No blades. Off to court flying and, on Route One, I pressed the wrong button to light a cigaret. The top started to come down and, at 35 m. p. h. it comes down fast. Got to court where the Chillingworth Murder Trial is going on and wanted to change places with Judge Peel, but was afraid he'd turn it down.

Sat in seat one, row one. Dozing. Someone said "Hear ye," hear ye!" and, just as Judge D. C. Smith flew by, I pulled my foot back. He didn't realize it, but he came this close to wearing the little swinging gate as a collar. He is a scholar with lots of patience, but how far will a judge go for an alien from the north?

Sheriff Jack Norvell came over. He wears orange string ties and a ranch getup, mainly, I suspect, because he owns a ranch. He is a highly respected man, and he and his deputies have run this court with great fairness and decorum. "Would you come to lunch with me to Kiwanis?" he said. "I'm a member and I promised to bring you."

Sure, I said. By all means. Count me in. So, at lunch time, I had a head full of ideas for a story about the trial and I hurried out of court before the sheriff could grab me. This is just one of the many subtle ways of making friends.

Most of the afternoon was spent watching the Yo Yo Jury troop in and out of court. Once, the testimony started to become interesting, but at that point, the giant air conditioner cut in and I could see the lips of the witness going like crazy, and he pointed dramatically at Judge Peel, but it was all a wrong number from where I sat.

In the evening, I went off to the Swiss Chalet, where the food is close to what it is like at home. I ate alone, so I bought a newspaper. The Fort Pierce News-Tribune. I wanted to read their coverage of the murder trial. It was, of course, yesterday's paper.

Somebody must have put a piece of ham or boiled bacon in the string beans, so that closed that item. For no reason at all, I began to worry about how to spell the name of a witness: P. O. Wilbur. I hurried back to my pad and looked at the carbons. I had spelled it Wilbur on the first three pages, and Wilbur on the last two. There's nothing like giving the copy desk a choice.

Court recesses over Sunday, so I thought I would consult the prosecution. I hurried out, leaving my room unlocked because I would be gone only a short time. State Attorney Phil O'Connell is in a room at the Southernaire, so, at 9:55 p. m. I knocked on his door to get some advance ideas on the trial.

I knocked twice. The door opened a quarter inch. Inside it was dark. "What is it?" asked the voice of Mrs. O'Connell. I gulped. "I'm sorry," I said. "I wanted to ask Mr. O'Connell a question, but I can keep." She sighed. "He's so overworked," she said, "he came back here after dinner and went right to bed. He's sound asleep."

I mumbled something and left. Across the court there was Room 20 with Ross Anderson and Henry Lovern of the Florida Sheriff's Bureau. These are the men who worked two years to solve the Chillingworth murder. They could give me some good information. I knocked. There was a light on inside. I heard a woman let out a yelp and I heard a door close. The one in front of me opened. A big man wearing an ugly face stood in his shorts and said: "Well?" I said: "May I speak to Ross Anderson and Henry Lovern?" The man glared. "Never heard of them. They don't live here, mister."

Excuse me, I said. "Tell me," he said, "who are you and why are you knocking on strange doors in the middle of the night?" I said I was just plain night people, the Jimmy Valentine of the motels.

"Funny man," he said and slammed the door. I went back to my room shaking my head. The owner of the motel, Mr. Vernon Jenkins, was standing in front of it. "Shouldn't leave your door open, Mr. Bishop," he said politely. "I just locked it." The key, of course, was inside.

I was in the shower when the phone rang. It was Ross Anderson. "You looking for me?" he said...

Seated, left to right, are Roma Skidmore, Aleene Frost, Darlene McKenzie and Kay Beeman. Standing, same order, are Kenny Foor, Larry Shumaker, Allan Eisel and Donald Zarefoss. Youth Week will be observed starting April 17. During that week, the young people will assume the duties of the officers of the church. In addition special activities are being planned for the young people.

Terrain Curbs School Plans In West Va.

By CARLO J. SALZANO

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—

West Virginia's rugged topography has forced school construction experts to modify certain nationwide standards which were adopted last September by the State Board of Education.

William Stormer, consultant for the State Department of Education, said after a meeting Tuesday that certain standards for school building sites had to be changed because of the hilly nature of West Virginia's terrain.

"Large tracts of level land are at a premium in West Virginia," Stormer said. "It just was not possible in most cases to follow standards set out in 1958 by the National Council on Schoolhouse Construction."

As a result, Stormer said, the West Virginia School Plant Standards Committee decided to reduce the minimum acreages set out by the council.

Cut From 5 to 3
The council had recommended that elementary schools be built on tracts of at least five acres. The minimum for junior high

Tri-Towns Lions Dinner Meeting Tomorrow Night

WESTERNPORT — The regular dinner meeting of the Tri-Towns Lions Club will be held tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Ormal Hoover, president, announces.

Following the meeting the members will start the house-to-house solicitation for funds for the new road back of Jake's Place to the Greene's Addition area.

The members planning to attend the convention at Atlantic City May 24-27 should contact Lester Chaney, secretary.

The board of directors has ordered 408 brooms and one dozen American flags to be used as samples. Orders will be taken. The sale will begin April 13 and the money realized will be used for their sight conservation program.

Schools was 20 acres plus one acre for every 100 students.

Stormer said the committee cut the minimum standard for elementary school construction to three acres for all buildings with fewer than six rooms and five acres plus one acre for each 100 pupils for all elementary school buildings with six rooms or more.

The council's recommendations for junior and senior high school construction was cut in half, Stormer said. The committee decided on 10 acres plus one for every 50 students for junior high schools and 15 acres plus one for every 50 students for senior high schools.

Stormer emphasized that the recommendations are made merely as guides for future construction and that the committee has no authority to enforce them.

Many Plans Studied
It is within the authority of the Board of Education, however, to enforce such recommendations if they are adopted, probably next fall.

Stormer said that during the past 18 months, the committee has studied plans for 43 new elementary and secondary school buildings and 94 additions to existing schools.

The consultant noted that although most of the new school buildings will be on sites barely within the modified minimum standards, at least two are on tracts of more than 100 acres each.

One of these two is the new Wayne High School which went into operation last month. The other, in Barbour County between Philippi and Belington, still is in the planning stage.

Area Bandsmen Play Saturday At Keyser High

12 Schools Will Send Representatives

KEYSER — The annual West Virginia Area IV High School Band Clinic will be held this year at Keyser High School Saturday.

There will be approximately 110 school bandsmen meeting together for the second time for this event. These same band students met for two days last weekend at Martinsburg. They will rehearse again here in Keyser, and perform at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The clinic band will consist of representatives from each high school band within this eight-county area. The bandsmen were chosen by their respective directors on the basis of musicianship and scholastic achievement.

For the past three years each band director has been supplying and directing the clinic bands through three relatively new compositions from his files. This method has proven very satisfactory to both the bandsmen and directors.

There are 12 high schools to be represented in this year's clinic according to word received by Nunzio Barbera, host band director.

They are Harpers Ferry, Charles Town, Shepherdstown, Berkeley Springs, Paw Paw, Capon Bridge, Romney, Moorefield, Keyser, Hedgesville, Musselman and Martinsburg.

The public is invited to attend the rehearsals and the Saturday evening concert.

Police Rules Are Adopted In Piedmont

'Walking Bloodbank' Meeting Set Today

PIEDMONT — The Mayor and Council Monday night unanimously adopted a set of rules for the police department which were suggested by Councilman King-Sley Skidmore.

The rules, read by Mayor Rodney Baker, specify that police are not to discuss police business with the public and all complaints are to be taken up with the Mayor and Council instead of outsiders.

Emphasis should be placed on the enforcement of all local ordinances and the police are to cooperate with state police when asked for assistance.

Other rules include no swearing on duty and all town violations are to be tried by the mayor. However persons guilty of crimes requiring grand jury action should be taken before Justice of the Peace Thomas Appel.

Robert Wills, Second Street, complained to city officials that garbage and a truck belonging to Mrs. Mary Wills is creating a fire hazard near his place.

Mayor Baker advised Chief of Police Charles Spiker to notify Mrs. Wills to remedy the situation and was authorized to ask Fire Chief Theodore Combs to accompany him.

Jack Carney pointed out that a two-way radio for the police cruiser would be useful. He said he thought local police could then have direct contact with Keyser police and State Police. Approval of State Police at Charleston would be required. He was authorized to investigate the matter.

The Coffman-Fisher Store, corner of Child's Avenue and Second Street, was granted a permit to erect one of two fluorescent signs in front of the business place.

John Clayton, manager, said remodeling work inside the store is being planned.

Henry C. Johnson, 14 West Hampshire Street, was granted a permit to do some work at that address.

The Mayor and Council ordered that Patrolman Robert Mangold be advanced $50 for expenses to Charleston where he will be a witness March 30 when the Piedmont Aerie, F O Eagles, appear before the State Beer Commission.

Mangold will reimburse the town when he receives his expenses from the state.

Councilman Skidmore informed the Mayor and Council they are invited to attend a public meeting today at 8 p. m. in the Knights of Columbus home where a "Walking Bloodbank" will be aired.

Councilman Michael Lannon reported he received complaints of autos speeding on Harrison Street. Parts of the street are narrow and he is afraid some child may be injured or killed. The situation will be investigated.

Card Party Slated

WESTERNPORT—Victory Post 155, American Legion will hold a public card party Tuesday March 28, at 8 p. m. in the post home. Bridge, 500 and seback will be played.

Lonaconing Council Donates $25

Parking Area To Be Blacktopped

LONAONING — A $25 donation to the Lonaconing Civic Improvement Association for the new street decorations fund was voted by Mayor Robert D. Peebles and Council at the meeting Monday night in the Town Hall.

Blacktopping of the parking area at the depot site will be completed by the Cumberland Contracting Company as a result of councilmanic action.

Raymond Faye Kiddy obtained a permit to build a new home on Douglas Avenue.

Two commissioners were absent. Commissioner James Berry did not attend because of a recent heart attack. Commissioner Robert M. "Lefty" Grove is visiting his son in Ohio.

Negotiations are still underway with Cherry Hill Coal Company to secure the railroad roadbed right of ways at the upper end of Church Hill for extension of the street to Douglas Avenue.

The street light in front of the Town Hall will be moved to the Scollip property corner at the rear of Railroad Street, where street lighting is needed.

William Devlin, street supervisor, will change the parking signs on Douglas Avenue within the week to the opposite side, to even the wear and tear on the street.

The mayor appointed Benjamin Zarger to serve as acting police commissioner in the absence of Mr. Grove, while he is on vacation. He announced council meetings are scheduled for April 10 and April 24.

Registration of voters will be Saturday, April 22, from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Applications for candidates in the town election may be obtained from City Clerk Calvin C. James on Wednesday and Saturday from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. at the council hall.

Each prospective candidate must have the signatures of two percent of the voters registered and filed at least ten days before election.

Terra Alta Firm Is Low Bidder On Highway Jobs

TERRA ALTA, W. Va. — The Terra Alta Limestone Company is the apparent low bidder on three highway projects in the state, according to United Press International.

The local firm submitted low bids of $61,514 and $79,564 for two resurfacing projects in Pocahontas County.

The third low bid was $167,344 for 13.17 miles on U.S. Route 219 between Huttonville and Valley Head in Randolph County.

The bids by the local firm were among those totaling some $1.3 million received by the State Road Commission. Some 116 miles of West Virginia highways will be resurfaced.

CCC Men's Golf Team Has Ten Matches On Schedule

Women Plan Invitational June 29-30

Peskin Tournament Sept. 3-4; Carroll Boggs Lists Dates

Ten matches appear on the 1961 schedule of the men's golf team of the Cumberland Country Club, which has won 61 consecutive matches over the local course since the 1946 season.

The schedule of the Men's Golf Association for the coming season was announced yesterday by Carroll Boggs, club manager and professional.

Team Unbeaten In 1960

The C.C.C. team posted a 10-0 record last year and increased its two-year winning streak to 12 matches.

Home-and-home matches are scheduled with Martinsburg, W. Va., Maplehurst of Frostburg, Preston Country Club of Kingwood, W. Va., and North Fork Country Club of Johnstown, Pa. The local team will play single matches at the Fountain Head Country Club, Hagerstown, and the Beaver Creek Country Club, also of Hagerstown.

Four Teams To Vie

Four teams, namely, Maplehurst, Morgantown, Cumberland and Kingwood will participate in the match Sunday, June 11, at Kingwood. Each club will be represented by 20 players.

The fourth annual Peskin Memorial Trophy Tournament is set for September 3 and 4. Joe Graton was the 1960 winner.

Joe Wolfe is the defending champion in the annual spring handicap tournament which gets under way April 29.

The club's fall championship tournament gets under way August 26 with John Rokisky as the defending champion.

Invitation Set June 29-30

Boggs announced that the Women's Golf Association will hold its eleventh annual invitational tournament Thursday and Friday, June 29 and 30. Miss Barbara Biggs, of the Manor Country Club, Washington, D.C., copied this tournament in 1959 and 1960 and can gain permanent possession of the Old Export Bowl by winning this year.

The CCC women's team will host North Fork, of Johnstown, Pa., July 18 and will play a return match in the Pennsylvania city August 15.

Here is the schedule of the Men's Golf Association for the season:

Sat., Apr. 29—First Round Spring Handicap Tournament.

Sunday, May 7—CUMBERLAND AT MARTINSBURG.

Sunday, May 14—Pro-Am (free break fast).

McLish Is Victim Of Rally In 7th

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles scored two runs off Cal McLish in the seventh inning and hung a 2 to 1 defeat on the Chicago White Sox Tuesday.

Singles by Gus Triandos and Gene Stephens plus a double by Jerry Adair were the big blows in the inning.

The White Sox collected nine hits in the first five innings off veteran Gordon Jones, but stranded 10 runners in that time.

John Papa, a 21-year-old right-hander on the Little Rock roster, blanked the Chicagoans on no hits during the remaining four innings.

Chicago's lone run was unearned. It stemmed from an error by Brooks Robinson on a grounder by Jim Landis to open the second inning.

Win Ninth Game In Grapefruit Loop

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates parlayed two big innings into a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday, and ended their two-game losing streak in the grapefruit league.

The world champions scored three times off Johnny Buzhardt in the fourth inning and four times against Dallas Green in the seventh for their ninth win in 12 exhibition games. Two errors by the Phils, who have a 5-4 record, made the winning runs unearned.

Jerry's Beauty Salon, Robinson's Plumbers and Fulton Myers Post captured the final games of the season last night in the Men's Rec Basketball League and set the stage for the playoffs to begin next Monday.

Jerry's defeated Pittsburgh Plate, 45-29; Robinson's downed Spaghetti House, 74-30; and Fulton Myers whipped Nave's, 68-30, in last night's games at Port Hill gym.

Fulton Myers' victory enabled the American Legion quint to tie Alcino for first place in the league, each club having a 14-2 record. A flip of the coin was won by Fulton Myers which chose to end its season in second place, giving Alcino the regular season title.

Robinson's triumph tied the Plumbers with Marine Reserves for fourth place, each with a 12-4 mark. A playoff game for the fourth-place spot will be held at 7 p. m. on Monday at Allegany High School gym. Jerry's Beauty Salon finished in third place.

At 8 o'clock on Monday Alcino and Jerry's will open the semi-final playoffs as the second game of a doubleheader at Allegany.

On Tuesday at 8 p. m., Fulton Myers will meet the winner of the Robinson's-Marine Reserve contest in another semi-final battle at the Campobello gym. Finals in the league playoffs are scheduled for Thursday at Allegany, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Plans for the playoffs were completed at a meeting of the managers of the top five clubs at Port Hill last night. Attending the session with Lee Taylor, supervisor of the Rec League basketball program were Bob Shelley, Alcino Club; Buddy Meade, Fulton Myers; Pickles Doolan, Jerry's Beauty Salon; Mike Lease, Marine Reserves; and Paul Appel, Robinson's Plumbers. Lonaconing Granted Franchise In Pen-Mar League

Eight Clubs Lined Up For 1961 Season

Legion, VFW Post Forfeit; Circuit To Meet April 9

The Pen-Mar League became an eight club circuit yesterday when Lonaconing, playoff champions of the Twilight League for the past two seasons, was granted a franchise for the 1961 campaign.

Bob Mundeno, representing Lonaconing, advised Howard L. Northcraft, Pen-Mar secretary, that the forfeit fee of the new Lonaconing team was donated by the American Legion and the V. F. W. posts. Officers will be elected by the Lonaconing team at a meeting to be held Saturday night.

At the last meeting of the Pen-Mar League on March 12 seven teams, all holdovers of the 1960 league, retained their franchises and Lonaconing was granted an extension of time to reach a definite decision as to whether it would join the league.

The Lonaconing team announced that it is seeking a sponsor for the 1961 season.

The seven other teams in the Pen-Mar League are Barreilville, 1960 pennant and playoff winners, Hyndman, Mt. Savage, Flintstone, Moorefield, Salisbury and Frostburg. Lonaconing replaces Centerville which dropped out of the league after the 1960 season.

This is the 13th consecutive year for the Pen-Mar League which has been in operation since 1949.

Secretary Northcraft announced the next meeting of the league will be held Sunday, April 9, at 2 p. m. at Melody Manor, Barreilville. A schedule will be adopted and other business transacted at this session.

New York N.L. Team Picks St. Petersburg

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The New York Yankees announced Tuesday that they will switch their spring training site from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., next season.

At St. Petersburg, city officials announced at the same time that the brand-new New York team of the National League will replace the Yankees at the St. Petersburg camp in 1962—the first year of operation for the new club.

PITTSBURGH'S WORLD CHAMPIONS STANDING PAT FOR '61, CLUB LOOKS SOLID; NO LET-DOWN SEEN IN TEAM SPIRIT

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page.

By WALTER L. JOHNS Central Press Sports Editor

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The big year is past for the Pittsburgh Pirates after that long, long wait and the Buccaneers will go into the 1961 campaign highly regarded with a set World Series ball club and most everyone here, of course, figuring on another pennant.

Opinion elsewhere is divided, for some will tell you that everything clicked for the Pittsburgh entry last year, including a lack of injuries except the one to Dick Groat, and one can't expect the Corsairs to win so many of those come-from-behind games again. Danny Murtaugh, the tobacco-chewing little skipper who ruled as baseball king of the world last autumn, admits that he has the solid club, that it's "pretty good" and that "any additions would be to the pitching staff."

Danny boy says that there isn't any let-down in attitude after the Series swag, that there is good spirit here and that the boys reported in good shape.

"WE HAD a consistent ball club last year," Danny explained at Terry Park here, "and I admit we were lucky we didn't have too many injuries. The key to this club was its ability to come from behind."

Could Use Pitching "We're set just about everywhere but we could use some pitching help. I'm going to use Bobby Shantz as spot relief. I'm counting on Curt Raydon and George Witt to help us. They came up with some arms last year but they appear to be all right now."

Witt and Raydon are the two pitchers who did well for the Pirates and then were beset by ailing flippers last year.

It appears that the Buccaneers, with the starters in Vern Law, Bob Friend, Harvey Haddix and Vinegar Bend Mizell, will seek their fifth starter from a group which includes Tom Cheney, once in the St. Louis Cardinal's chain, Raydon, Witt, Earl Francis, who was at Columbus last year, and Jim Umbricht, who was 8-5 for Columbus.

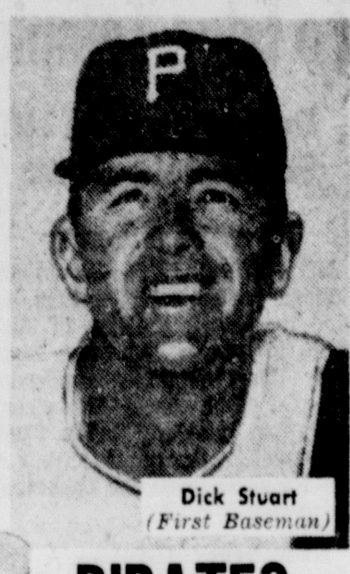

Umbricht is highly-regarded by Danny, who points out that he has looked very good this spring. Another possibility is Tom Parsons, a 6-foot-6½-inch youngster who comes up from Salt Lake City where he won 12 games in Triple A last year.

Have Five Lefties The Pirates, as usual, have brought in a flock of pitchers, actually 30 in number on the varsity and from the farms, and to pick the right men to join the established flingers is quite a chore. There are five left-handers, in Haddix, Mizell, Shantz, Joe Gibbon and Fred Green and this gives the club additional pitching depth.

Murtaugh's 1961 product is a repeat in the other spots, too, although one problem may be to select a fifth outfielder to go with

Roberto Clemente, Bob Skinner and Bill Virdon and the spare, Gino Cimoli. The fifth could be Joe Christopher, who was brought up last year; Roman Mejias, who spent most of last year with Columbus, or Donn Clendenon, a 6-foot-5-inch giant who hit 28 homers and had a .335 batting average last year with Savannah. "Clendenon," pointed out Danny, "is not only a good hitter but he made the switch from first base to the outfield very well."

Infield Is Same The Buccaneer infield is the same as last year with Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson at first, the Series hero Bill Mazeroski at second, captain Groat at short and Don Hoak at third. The spare infielders probably will be Gene Baker and Dick Gray. Baker was with the club

Bob Shaw Ends 23-Day Holdout

CHICAGO (UPI)—Pitcher Bob Shaw ended a 23-day holdout Tuesday and came to terms with the Chicago White Sox.

Bill Veck, club president, said he and Shaw reached an "amicable agreement" on the pitcher's 1961 contract and Shaw immediately caught a plane for the White Sox training site at Sarasota, Fla. Shaw who had a 13-13 record last year, rejected offers calling for a $3,000 cut from the estimated $20,000 he received last season.

The 27-year-old righthander staged the longest holdout in recent White Sox history.

"He walked out of here with a plane ticket in his hand and both sides were satisfied. That's all I can say," Veck said.

After having 100 thousand tickets printed for the 1949 World Series and then failing to win the pennant, the St. Louis Cardinals gave the tickets away as souvenirs to the fans who had ordered them.

Henry Cooper Stops Erskine In 5th Round

British Champion Retains His Title

WEMBLEY, England (UPI)—British and Empire heavyweight champion Henry Cooper scientifically and systematically left-handed challenger Joe Erskine Tuesday night to score a fifth-round technical knockout that may earn him a September shot at Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

Cooper's win put him high on Patterson's list of prospects for a fight in the United States later in the year. Sonny Liston also is being considered.

Erskine, who had a two pound weight advantage at 190, was never really in the fight. It was Cooper, the man with the reputation as a lefty slugger, who did all the boxing. Erskine, the so-called ring artist, looked like a complete novice.

Cooper left-jabbed him almost out of the ring from the opening bell, and the crinkly haired Welshman had no answer to the ramrod blows of the champion.

The end came a few seconds after Erskine had gone to his corner after the bell for the end of the fifth round. Blood was pouring from a cut on his right eye and two cuts on the left. His manager, Benny Jacobs, took one look at the damaged eye and called referee Andrew Smith to the corner. Smith told the ring announcer to give the decision that Erskine had retired.

It was Cooper's 23rd victory in 31 professional fights. Erskine, 27, was fighting for the 43rd time and has won 37. Cooper received $22,400 and Erskine $14,000 from the 12,000 crowd at the Empire pool. Tuesday night's victory was Cooper's second over Erskine in four meetings as pros. Cooper gave the tickets away as souvenirs to the fans who had ordered them.

College Bill Suffers Major Setback

Education Unit Votes Against U. Md. Center

Governor's Next Move Uncertain

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The House Education Committee in a tense vote at the climax of a long discussion Tuesday disapproved by 11-10 control of Frostburg Teachers College by the University of Maryland.

The unfavorable committee report was a clearcut setback for Gov. Tawes. He had given wholehearted support to transfer of administration of the teachers college in Allegany County from the State Board of Education to the university.

Administration forces had not decided yet whether to force the fight to the floor of the House and try again there.

The committee vote was taken in a crowded committee room that included representatives of the Maryland State Teachers Association, the parents and teachers, and the Frostburg faculty who were all out in opposition.

It was preceded by a debate of 1½ hours attesting to the strife the proposal has generated in the legislature.

Tawes Charges Double-Cross

"I am greatly disappointed," Gov. Tawes said upon being informed of the adverse vote.

He charged he had been double-crossed. "I had definite commitments from legislators who went back on them," he said.

His supporters in the legislature named Dels. James A. Wise, D-Caroline, and Charles B. Huyett, D-Washington, as two who had been counting upon and who voted against them.

Either one of their favorable votes would have given the administration a majority.

Del. Blair Lee, D-Montgomery, did not vote as committee chairman. He said he would have been against the college conversion if he did ballot. Del. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, was the only committee member absent.

Apportionment Bill

While the governor was being rebuffed in committee on Frostburg, his bill to add 21 delegates to the House continued to remain in a vacuum on the floor.

A minority of opponents for the fourth straight day blocked the reapportionment measure from movement through the parliamentary maneuver of simply offering an amendment.

The opponents offered to call off their day by postponement if the proponents would agree to keep the bill off the floor until March 30. After that, the bill can be laid over for only an hour if an amendment is offered.

Opponents refused. They said it meant the bill would die for lack of time. Even if the House finally passed it, it would have to go through the Senate processes and the legislature is due to end April 3.

Insurance Assets

The Senate finally got to moving a House bill to require that insurance company assets be 10 times greater than any single risk on deposits.

The Senate rejected 16-11 an amendment to strike out a House provision giving an existing company two years in which to comply.

As finance committees neared the end of their screening of the governor's $506 million budget, he sent them proposals for an additional $14 million spending.

How They Voted On College Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The House Education Committee vote Tuesday on transferring Frostburg Teachers College to the University of Maryland was:

Against (11):

Dels. Charles B. Huyett, D-Washington, Bennie C. Dowell, D-Caroline, Richard D. Mackie, D-Cecil, Elroy G. Boyer, D-Kent, Clarence H. Corkran Jr., D-Dorchester, Morton H. Getz, D-Harford, Paul B. Garbelman, D-Prince Georges, James H. Caldwell, D-Wicomico, Edna P. Cook, D-Montgomery, Charles P. Culver, D-Balto County.

For (10):

Dels. Norman E. Polk, D-Worcester, Frances Holub, D-Balto 2nd, Verda F. Welcome, D-Balto 4th, William C. O'Malley, D-Balto 3rd, Orlando Ridout IV, D-Anne Arundel, J. Joseph Curran Jr., D-Balto 3rd, Robert C. Long, D-Somerset, Irma G. Dixon, D-Balto 4th, Charles H. Smelser, D-Fredrick, Fred B. Driscoll, R-Allegany.

Absent—Del. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery.

Not voting—Chairman Blair Lee III, D-Montgomery.

Deaths

Dean Mrs. Hansen, 90, former resident.

Hering, Frank W., 71, of 128 Polk Street.

Lee, William T., 83, formerly of Lonaconing.

Subway Gets New Surface

Kenneth Grimes, Eugene Hedrick and LeRoy Keefer. Crews yesterday completed laying and rolling a leveling course and completed about three-fourths of the leveling course. Work will resume today at 7 a. m. and is scheduled for completion by noon unless the weather should interfere.

Driscoll Wages Losing Battle For FSTC Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Del. Fred B. Driscoll, R-Allegany, had to argue for 20 minutes Tuesday before the House Education Committee to take up his resolution calling for a study of higher education, including the Frostburg proposal.

Then he lost it by an 11-10 vote.

Mrs. Edna P. Cook, D-Montgomery, moved first for the committee to take up her resolution calling for a study of higher education, including the Frostburg proposal.

Driscoll complained the Frostburg question should be taken up on its merits rather than trying to kill it indirectly.

The chairman of the Allegany delegation, after winning his point, gave the committee petitions signed by 4,000 in favor of removing Frostburg from administration by the State Board of Education.

He praised the present Frostburg, but said it could provide opportunity for more students in Western Maryland to attend college if the state university took over and added liberal arts to the teaching curriculum.

"Most of the opposition is from those connected with the educational system in the state and affiliated groups," he said.

Mrs. Cook, who is sponsor of a plan to put all higher education under a new board, argued Frostburg could obtain more money through such an agency than "as an arm of the university."

RC Plans Water Safety Courses

A senior life saving course and an instructors' water safety course are planned by the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The senior life saving course will begin March 27 at 6 p. m. at the YMCA and run for three weeks, according to Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary. It is a 17-hour course.

The instructors' water safety course will be given in two parts. The first will begin April 17 and the second April 24. Part one and two are both 15 hour courses.

All courses are being held in conjunction with the YMCA. There will be no charge for Red Cross swimming instruction but the Y will make a nominal pool charge.

Civil Suit Settled By Attorneys Here

Testimony in a civil suit involving a $675 check was heard Tuesday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court but the suit was settled by the attorneys. Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey presided at the court hearing.

Herman F. Humbertson, of Frostburg, through his attorney, Miller Bowen, filed the suit against Joseph Lyons, trading as the Clarysville Inn. Edward J. Ryan was defense attorney.

Changing Braddock Run Results In Legal Dispute

Where is Braddock Run? That apparently simple question cannot be answered so simply.

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey heard evidence yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court in a boundary dispute which results because the course of Braddock Run in LaVale has changed through the years.

Governor Adds $14 Million To State Budget

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Tawes Tuesday added $14 million in new spending to his budget now before the Maryland Legislature, including $2.6 million in welfare aid to help ease the impact of continued unemployment.

The supplemental budget was submitted to the House and Senate as finance committees reached agreement on about $1.1 million they will trim from the $506 million program originally submitted.

The new spending total will be approximately $519 million when the budget goes to the floor of the Senate, either Thursday or Friday.

The major item in the governor's budget supplement was $8,784,452 to put into effect aid to local governments for welfare and education as recommended by the Legislative Council's James Committee.

Next largest was the new boost in welfare spending made necessary because of the prolonged recession. The governor added some $1.6 million to continue welfare aid programs at their present levels, and nearly $1 million more to take advantage of the Kennedy administration program of proposed new aid to dependent children of unemployed fathers.

The $1.6 in extra welfare aid also is a contingency appropriation. It was requested by Thomas J. S. Waxter, state welfare director, to cover drains on welfare funds which he said were far in excess of those originally anticipated.

Tawes also included in the budget supplement $436,927 to finance a program of free tuition at the University of Maryland, Maryland State College and Morgan State College for students who will become school teachers. At present such free tuition applies only to the five state teacher colleges.

Most of the rest of the supplement provides funds to finance bills now before the assembly or already enacted.

Fire Unit Plans Shrimp Feed

The Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company will hold a shrimp feed Saturday from 6 until 9 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from members or at the door.

The company will hold a membership drive during April. There will be no initiation fee but members will have to pay monthly dues. Anyone interested in joining the company should attend one of the meetings during April. The unit meets each Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the fire hall.

Coin cards have been distributed in the area and will be collected in June. Proceeds from the cards go toward buying and maintaining the fire apparatus.

County Band Students To Participate In Instrumental Musical Festival

Hubert P. Henderson, director of hands at the University of Maryland, and Joel H. Berman, conductor of the university's symphony orchestra, will be guest conductors during the 1961 Allegany County Instrumental Music Festival tomorrow and Friday at Valley High School.

LaVern J. Hahn, music supervisor in public schools, said students of orchestras and bands from all county high schools and Pennsylvania Avenue seventh grade will take part in the festival.

Rehearsals tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening, and Friday morning and afternoon will be culminated by a concert Friday at 8 p. m.

Mr. Henderson, who attended public schools in Charlotte, N.C., received his A.B. and M.A. degrees.

Judge Cobey Reverses Act Of Jury Here

Washington County Board Wins Case

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey filed a five-page opinion and order in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday in favor of the County Commissioners of Washington County and against the plaintiff, a Hagerstown man, who had been awarded a $6,000 verdict by a jury here on January 27.

Raymond T. White of Hagerstown had been awarded the $6,000 verdict by a jury of eight men and four women which had deliberated about 25 minutes in this dispute involving the rental of a power shovel owned by Mr. White. The case had been removed from Washington County.

In his opinion granting a judgment in favor of the defendants notwithstanding the jury verdict, Judge Cobey points out that Eugene Geary, who at the time was county engineer for Washington County, was authorized by the Board of County Commissioners to lease equipment for the purpose of completing necessary road work where the county equipment was inadequate or was used on other jobs and in emergencies such as a heavy snowfall.

"No evidence was offered by either side to indicate that there was an emergency here which required the leasing of the shovel from Mr. White or that the leasing of the shovel was necessary to complete any road work then in progress or that was later started while the shovel was located at the county dump," Judge Cobey wrote.

"On the contrary, after the shovel was moved to the dump it remained there for several months until it was inspected by the county commissioners. After this inspection, the county commissioners notified Mr. Geary that they would not purchase the equipment. Aside from its operation for a short time the day it was inspected by several members of the defendant board, the shovel was never used while at the county dump."

"It is not only the rule of law in this state but in all states that in such a situation that a person dealing with the agent of a municipality is charged with the responsibility to ascertain the nature of the agent's authority. If the agent does not have the express authority to act, he cannot bind the municipality and the loss must be borne by the person dealing with him," Judge Cobey added.

At the January 27 trial, Mr. White was represented by Attorney Martin V. B. Bostetter of Hagerstown and Gorman E. Getty of this city. Defense attorneys were Norman Broadwater and John M. Colton of Hagerstown and James S. Getty of this county.

Police Probing Burglary Of Local Drugstore

Local authorities are investigating a breaking and entering and larceny of about $140 early yesterday morning from Keech's Drugstore, 600 Virginia Avenue.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van yesterday afternoon went through files of past offenders in an effort to match up fingerprints which were taken from a piece of glass which was broken out of the side door of the business place.

The breaking and entering of the drugstore occurred between 12:30 a. m. and 1:30 a. m. Police Chief B. F. Gaffney said the broken door and burglary were discovered by Officer Paul Penrod as he was making his rounds at 1:30 a. m.

Robert Keech, the manager and co-owner, said he left the store at 12:30 a. m. He told Capt. Van that $90 in $5 and $10 bills was removed from the register along with $40 to $50 in coins.

Cab Permit Granted

The Mayor and Council has granted one and tabled several other applications for taxicab permits here.

Considered were four applications for certificates of necessity involving taxi service here.

The application of Elmer D. Porter to operate one taxicab was granted.

Officials tabled the request of Parker Independent Cabs to split existing permits between the two partners, who are dissolving their partnership.

Also tabled were the applications of Glen Kimble, Lon D. Cook and Richard Landenberger to operate taxicabs here.

Youth Injures Arm While At School

A 16-year-old Fort Hill High School student was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday evening after sustaining an arm injury while at school.

The youth, Walter Merrill, of 50 South Street, sustained a laceration of his right forearm when he caught it in a door.

County Building Fire Quenched

Firemen from Central station yesterday were called to the County Building at 111 Union Street after a fire was discovered burning in the basement.

With the use of an extinguisher the janitor in the building managed to get the blaze under control but firemen were called to make sure the fire was out.

They received a call at 5:14 p. m. and said the fire had a good start but had been brought under control by the alert janitor.

Some cots and cans of medicine and other equipment were damaged by the blaze, according to firemen, who said the fire may have been caused by spontaneous combustion of some lime stored in the basement of the two-story brick building.

Firemen To Test Supply Of Hose

The Fire Department plans soon to run tests on its supplies of older hose, according to Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

He said the Street Department will be offered hose which does not meet the Fire Department's rigid standards for use in flushing down streets.

Mr. Fleming said the hose testing will be done as soon as the weather breaks.

Supervisors To Meet

District Supervisors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation Service will meet Friday in the county agent's office, Wilbert R. Paul of Mt. Savage will be chairman.

Martin Gordon of the local office will report on the unit's activities of the past month.

Need For Plane Service To Be Told To CAB

The State Aviation Commission has instituted a program to bring the inadequacy of airline service at the Cumberland Municipal Airport before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

This information was related by Rudolph A. Drennan, director, in a letter to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Mr. Drennan said he plans to come to Cumberland soon to relate details of the program to city officials.

This is one of several hopeful developments in the fight the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce is waging to secure commercial air service to this Western Maryland industrial and transportation center.

Two Advanced By Seabee Unit

Two members of Naval Reserve Construction Battalion 5-7 (Seabees) have passed examinations for advancement at the local Naval Training Center, according to Commander Paul M. Arbogast.

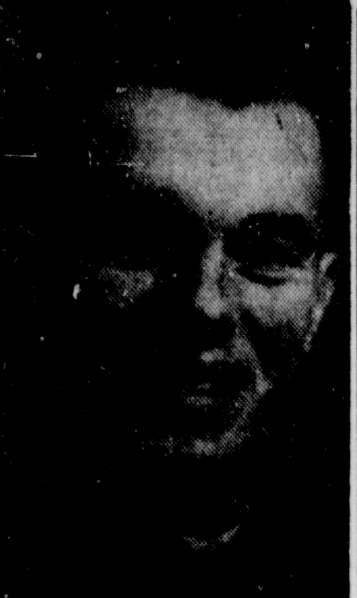

Louis C. Griggs, construction electrician first class, is awaiting approval by the Bureau of Naval Personnel for advancement to the rate of chief petty officer.

Griggs has been a member of the local Seabee unit for over five years and is employed at Works 7, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

He has served in the training office of the local unit and is now instructor for the electrician class.

Galen G. McKenzie, LaVale, surveyor third class, was advanced to surveyor second class. McKenzie, a veteran member of the unit, is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

The advancement of both men is the result of an intensive training program conducted by the local unit on the third weekend of each month. Both men served their annual two-week active duty for training at the CB training center, Davisville, R.I., and completed a series of practical factors on their ratings in addition to passing the three-hour written examination which qualified them for advancement.

Spring Snow Makes Roads Hazardous

Up To Four Inches Falls In County

Up to four inches of wet snow fell in sections of Western Maryland by 9 p. m. yesterday and it was still coming down, causing slippery conditions on U.S. Routes 40 and 50 and other highways in the area.

R. E. L. Putman, maintenance engineer for District 6 of the State Roads Commission, said crews were out plowing, cindering and salting the highways.

From one and a half to three or four inches of wet snow was reported in various sections of Allegany County. At least two or three inches of snow piled up in Cumberland by 9 p. m.

Roads 40, 50 Slippery

U. S. Route 40 was snow-covered and slippery west into Grantsville and eastward as far as Hancock. State Route 135 in the Bloomington area was snow-covered and slippery west up over Backbone Mountain in Garrett County.

Fog added to the driving hazard along U. S. 50 on Allegheny Front in the vicinity of Mt. Storm, according to West Virginia State Police at Romney, who said snow mixed with rain had fallen in that area. Route 50 east and west of Romney was rather slick.

It was raining in Oakland last night, according to a report from the sheriff's office. The temperature was about 36 degrees there.

No Serious Collisions

No serious accidents were reported by either Maryland or West Virginia state police.

The weatherman said that rain ending this afternoon will be followed by mostly cloudy skies. The high temperature today is expected to range from 48 to 53 degrees.

The unofficial high temperature in Cumberland yesterday was 48 degrees, and by 9 p. m. the temperature had dipped to 36.

Yesterday morning the first full day of spring started with sunshine, but by noon the skies had become overcast and rain began to fall.

Later in the day a mixture of rain and sleet turned to snow which was falling last night.

Fire Unit Begins First Aid Course

A Red Cross first aid course will be sponsored this week by the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company.

Vincent DeLaGrange will be instructor for the ten-hour course which will begin today at 6 p. m. in the fire hall.

This evening's class will last from 6 to 10 and on Thursday night the course will be held during the same hours. On Friday those taking the course will complete it during a session scheduled from 6 to 8 p. m.

A first aid book, required for the course, may be purchased from Mr. DeLaGrange or from the local Red Cross office. Participants will need a four-foot wrapping-type bandage and a triangular bandage made from a 32-inch piece of material.

The course is open to the public and especially to members of volunteer fire companies of the area.

County Building Fire Quenched

Firemen from Central station yesterday were called to the County Building at 111 Union Street after a fire was discovered burning in the basement.

With the use of an extinguisher the janitor in the building managed to get the blaze under control but firemen were called to make sure the fire was out.

They received a call at 5:14 p. m. and said the fire had a good start but had been brought under control by the alert janitor.

Some cots and cans of medicine and other equipment were damaged by the blaze, according to firemen, who said the fire may have been caused by spontaneous combustion of some lime stored in the basement of the two-story brick building.

Celanese Contract Talks To Resume

Contract negotiations between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, and the Anncelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company will resume today at 10 a. m. at the plant.

The meeting was scheduled for yesterday but was deferred at the request of the union.

Negotiators for the company and union have met three times in recent weeks for preliminary talks devoted to the presentation and explanation of their proposals.

The contract at the plant is due to expire April 8.

Need For Plane Service To Be Told To CAB

The State Aviation Commission has instituted a program to bring the inadequacy of airline service at the Cumberland Municipal Airport before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

This information was related by Rudolph A. Drennan, director, in a letter to Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

Mr. Drennan said he plans to come to Cumberland soon to relate details of the program to city officials.

This is one of several hopeful developments in the fight the City of Cumberland and the Chamber of Commerce is waging to secure commercial air service to this Western Maryland industrial and transportation center.

Two Advanced By Seabee Unit

Two members of Naval Reserve Construction Battalion 5-7 (Seabees) have passed examinations for advancement at the local Naval Training Center, according to Commander Paul M. Arbogast.

Louis C. Griggs, construction electrician first class, is awaiting approval by the Bureau of Naval Personnel for advancement to the rate of chief petty officer.

Griggs has been a member of the local Seabee unit for over five years and is employed at Works 7, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

He has served in the training office of the local unit and is now instructor for the electrician class.

Galen G. McKenzie, LaVale, surveyor third class, was advanced to surveyor second class. McKenzie, a veteran member of the unit, is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

The advancement of both men is the result of an intensive training program conducted by the local unit on the third weekend of each month. Both men served their annual two-week active duty for training at the CB training center, Davisville, R.I., and completed a series of practical factors on their ratings in addition to passing the three-hour written examination which qualified them for advancement.

Spring Snow Makes Roads Hazardous

Up To Four Inches Falls In County

Up to four inches of wet snow fell in sections of Western Maryland by 9 p. m. yesterday and it was still coming down, causing slippery conditions on U.S. Routes 40 and 50 and other highways in the area.

R. E. L. Putman, maintenance engineer for District 6 of the State Roads Commission, said crews were out plowing, cindering and salting the highways.

From one and a half to three or four inches of wet snow was reported in various sections of Allegany County. At least two or three inches of snow piled up in Cumberland by 9 p. m.

Roads 40, 50 Slippery

U. S. Route 40 was snow-covered and slippery west into Grantsville and eastward as far as Hancock. State Route 135 in the Bloomington area was snow-covered and slippery west up over Backbone Mountain in Garrett County.

Fog added to the driving hazard along U. S. 50 on Allegheny Front in the vicinity of Mt. Storm, according to West Virginia State Police at Romney, who said snow mixed with rain had fallen in that area. Route 50 east and west of Romney was rather slick.

It was raining in Oakland last night, according to a report from the sheriff's office. The temperature was about 36 degrees there.

No Serious Collisions

No serious accidents were reported by either Maryland or West Virginia state police.
